BROKERS AND CROWD WAR ON BUCKET SHOPS

Dry Fly by Night Concerns Target.

been set up by night and the "bucket shop"
was launched late yesterday

The "dry up" move against more than forty干ers which have joined Chicago and middle west in a drive of millions of dollars followed the failure of James & Baker on the New York curb market. This firm was established about eleven years ago and removed its headquarters to New York. Its largest branch is at 29 South Michigan, while it has six other offices in other cities and three in New York City.

Brokers Hold Conference.

When the news of the Jones & Baker failure in New York became known a group of well known Chicago brokers met with State's Attorney to discuss and information

given by the Chicago Stock Exchange and the Board of Trade and its officers.

At this conference, Mr.
Mather, chairman of the committee of dryers into the business of bucket shops in Chicago, and the members of the group of dryers, Mr. Crowe said, "The whole question of bucket operations in Chicago was discussed and information
given by the Chicago Stock Exchange and the Board of Trade and its officers.

He said all
dryers would be presented to the court for criminal action, including three assistants, George Mather, Smith, and Robert Harding, who were in charge of the investigation.

He informed there are at least forty bucket shop firms in Chicago, Mr. Crowe said. "I have asked my assistants to go to every one of these concerns to go to every one of them to bring them to light. The names of these concerns will be called in order to explain their business. There are a large number of failures during the last few months. We will get a list of all these failures and those who have caught in these failures and those who have complaints against them will bring them with which they lost recovered.

The failure of Jones & Baker was a bucket brokerage house crash in the last few months. Yesterday morning
New York three creditors with claims of $2,500 filed a petition for bankruptcy. Immediately the New York Stock Exchange, which is the only exchange in which the firm had a membership, ordered the suspension of Jones & Baker. It then was known that the curb exchange had been secretly investigating the firm for a week.

Death of Books Postponed.

The membership of the firm's books by the stock exchange, according to a statement made by President Curtis in connection with the suspension of the firm.

Mr. Jones appeared before the law committee of the exchange on Tuesday and again this morning, when he stated that accountants would have to examine his books at 1 p. m.
The statement read, "Prior to the suspension Jones & Baker had written notice of the appointment of accountants of the firm. In accordance with the provisions of the Curb exchange, suspension of the firm was announced."

More than 10,000 Customers.

While the assets and liabilities of Jones & Baker were not given in the bankruptcy petition, unsecured estimates of the liabilities ranged from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. There were 10,000 customers in its books. The Chicago branch had 5,000 customers and its labilities were estimated yesterday at $10,000,000.

Proceedings in New York, according to attorneys for the petitioners, in order to protect the liquidation of assets, would have run to the maximum. Following the appearance of Alfred C. Jones Jr. as representative, he denied that the firm had been sustained, and stating that "with the present liquidation of our customers will suffer."

SYMPHONY PLAYERS TO GET $75 WEEK MINIMUM.

SAVE ORCHESTRA WITH PAY RAISE

W. D. Van Briggle of 2843 West Van Buren street, a wealthy manufacturer, was arrested yesterday by federal agents while in the lobby of the Great Northern hotel, where he went to keep an appointment with a revenue agent to whom he is alleged to have offered a bribe of $500.

It became known that Henry Ford, the Detroit automobile wizard, was in Silver Creek at approximately the time the bid was sent to Washington.

Mr. Ford was here last Friday, spent the day in town, and stayed overnight in Fonda, about twelve miles from here. These details of his movements came from Mr. Slack himself tonight, but he refused to admit the presence of the orchestra association and the Chicago Federation of Musicians.

By the terms of the new agreement the minimum weekly wage, already the highest paid to any symphony players in the country, has been increased from $60 to $75, adding about $2,000 annually to a pay roll running around $125,000.

He would not even say, however,
that he had or had not seen Mr. Ford.
When he was asked the direct question
he replied:

"That is one of the two questions which are taboo and which I refuse to answer."

When the agreement expired on April 21 the musicians demanded the minimum be raised to $75, but when directors of the association decided the orchestra would have to be reduced in size if this figure were met they initiated a new scale of $67.50 would be acceptable in certain cases.

An audit of the association books disclosed, however, that a substantial increase could be granted provided other conditions were changed, and in return for the salary increase the union has agreed to play a total of 126 concerts a season, an average of four and a half a week, instead of 112 as formerly. Four rehearsals a week are to be allowed, but in place of being limited to nine hours a week they are changed to thirty-six hours in every four weeks.

tiated a new scale of $67.50 would be

The season will be for twenty-nine weeks, with a vacation of one week in which there will be no performances and for which members of the orchestra will receive no salaries. This will permit the association to declare a vacation the week before Christmas if it seems advisable.

"Under the new arrangement the orchestra will be divided into two classes, comprising seventy-eight men who will play in all concerts and twelve extra men, making a total of 90."

by prohibition Daniels that if Gov. Smith signs the Mulan-Gage repeat that he will be nullifying the eighteenth amendment. It must be remembered that in 1919 the New York legislature rescinded its ratification of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States.

If New York should succeed in establishing an am by this nullification policy other wet states would be expected to follow the example.

The claim of this far-reaching plan of the wets was that with the rises by the drys, who asserted that state nullification of federal laws was ended for all time by the civil war.

A hint that the people might yet take up arms to regain the right to drink what they please was thrown out by Augustus Thomas, lord of the spoken drama, who in a spirited address urged the governor to sign the repealer.

Bill of New Civil War.

"I am not advancing that the people take up arms to regain this inalienable right," exclaimed Mr. Thomas, striking a more attitude, and I am not predicting that they will do so, but I am as far from predicting that they will not."

Perhaps the most impressive appeal for veto of the repealer was made by William Hayward, federal district attorney for the southern district of New York, and a possible candidate for governor next year, who, in his peroration referring to Al Smith's wet resolutions said:

"If ever there should come a time when there is discord between the 'sidewalks of New York' and the 'Star Spangled Banner' there must be no doubt which side you choose."

"I give you no choice," retorted Mr. Thomas. "If there is a constitutional right represented by the 'sidewalks of New York' it is your duty to protect it."

That Double Jeopardy Clause.

Mr. Hayward had postponed the contention that the state and federal laws produce double jeopardy for the same offense, asserting that there had been no double prosecutions and concluding that in consultation between the state and federal prosecutions each case is taken by the jurisdiction having the better chance of conviction while the other jurisdiction withdraws.

"Mr. Hayward tells of this agreement to prevent double jeopardy," said Mr. Thomas, "and then reminds you governor, of your oath of office which is the same as his oath. Yet when he waives prosecution in order to allow the state to prosecute he violates his oath of office to enforce the federal laws. This falls nothing short of aiding and committing a felony."

Mr. Hayward came back with the assertion that he was not violating his oath as long as he saw to it that an offender was being prosecuted by either the state or federal government.

Do It to Ourselves.

Mr. Thomas said it is the duty of the minority to obey the law dictated by the majority unless the law invades a right of the minority, and then it is the duty of the minority to resist. The constitutional right of immunity from double jeopardy had been invaded, he said, and appealed to the Supreme court to fail to bring relief. Hence resistance is in order, the same name of resistance to oppression as was mentioned by Thomas Jefferson from whose writings he quoted copiously. He said eight men had been tried twice for the same offense in New York, and named seven other states in which there had been similar double proses.

ganized to accelerate the "back to Africa" campaign of some American Negroes, were used by Marcus Garvey, the head, in testing his judgment of horse feed.

The former co-operator of Garvey testified today at the latter's trial in federal court today on charges of the mails to defraud.

The former co-operator's name went into the court records. Sir Sydney De Burgh of Trinidad, knight commander of the Nile, duke of Nigeria and of Uganda, Sir Sydney, a native of Trinidad, came here in 1920 as a delegate to a Negro convention, and then aided Garvey to sell stock in the Black Star line to American Negroes and natives of the West Indies. Among Garvey was president.

down from Magna Charta was a guaranteed measure of wine. The people never surrendered that right, and the states could not.

"Governor, you cannot give the people wine and beer, but you can protect them from double punishment if they have the ill luck to get it once."

Repeal of the law was advocated by spokesman for the New York Federation of Labor.

Samuel Gompers sent a letter stating that the American Federation of Labor advocates modification of the Volstead law, which he called a misinterpretation of the eighteenth amendment, and urged repeal of the repealer, citing the refusal of many states to the civil war to cooperate with the federal government in enforcement of the fugitive slave law.

Women Urge Repeal.

Women urging repeal of the state law were represented by Catherine Finnegan Molter of the Molly Pitcher club, who cried out against the undemocratic result of prohibition which enables the rich to have all the liquor they want and deprives the poor man of his share of beer.

Robert H. Fillett, general counsel for the Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment, made a legal argument to prove that enforcement of national prohibition is not an obligation of the state.

The governor was urged to veto the repealer by more than twenty men and women representing the Anti-Saloon league, the New York League of Women Voters, New York Federation of Women's Clubs, the Y. M. C. A., and many churches and welfare organizations.

Candied Fancies Troubles.

"Governor, you are not any more educated than I am," pursued Mr. Thomas. "You tell how you emerged from the cinder path and I come from the cinder path of an amendment, and I am not going to withhold from you this learning I have recently acquired pertaining to the definition of the inalienable rights mentioned in the Declaration of Independence. Inalienable right is what cannot be disposed of. The right to drink what one pleases is an inalienable right."

Witness charged that while in Kingston, Jamaica, Garvey went broke after betting on horse races.

Mr. Garvey, who holds, besides other self donated titles, that of "provisional president of Africa" in his "back to Africa" campaign, told Sir Sydney about their manner of living in Jamaica to show that he was not extravagant and Sir Sydney replied that the accommodations "were all that one could expect and a man in your high position enjoy."

"Did you expect Mr. Garvey to sleep on the floor?" rejoined Garvey.

The witness was invited to describe Mr. Garvey's mode of travel.

"You always rode," said Sir Sydney. "You never walked; sometimes I walked."

"Did you live at the same place as Mr. Garvey?" asked Mr. Garvey.

"After you came from the races and said, 'We are broke,' you came to live at the same house with me," Garvey.

"When did you discuss Mr. Garvey being broke and going to the races?" inquired Mr. Garvey.

"I've been discussing you being broke, going to the races and losing money all the way from Jamaica to New York."

Sir Sydney said he did not care to resume his other title of leader of the western provinces of the Universal Negro Improvement association as long as Garvey was president.

Its stated purpose was to formulate plans to reaffiliate with the Building Trades council and to launch a "diplomatic" campaign to obtain a closed shop conditions.

Attending the meeting were Harry Jensen, carpenters; Arthur Wallace, painters; Oscar Biehl, cement finishers; Dan McCarthy and William Curran, plumbers; George Moore, lathers; Joe Moretti, laborers; George Jones, tailors; Thomas Radcliffe, carpenters, and Frank Hayes, sheet metal workers.

Arter Told of Purpose.

"We intend to appeal to the advisory board for support in restoring the thirteen so-called open shop trades to their former closed shop status," said Arter.

"We also intend, if our action would not embarrass the nineteen closed shop trades which form the present trades council, to apply for membership again in the council. If the advisory board sees fit to allow the thirteen so-called open shop trades to become members again we expect to work out plans whereby closed shop conditions will again prevail in all Chicago building trades."

Charles Koch, 60 years old, 15018 Lexington street, Chicago, Ill., was fatally injured Saturday evening when a piece of wood running on a rip-saw flew back and struck him on the chest.

Most of the other building trades have been declared "open shop" by the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award for abandoning the agreement under the Landis award.

These trades have demanded a uniform rate of $1.25 an hour from individual employers.

SEVEN NEW BILLS ACCUSE HOYS, 3 OTHERS, IN DEALS

Seven new indictments were returned yesterday by the McHenry county grand jury in connection with its investigation of the business affairs of Fremont Hoy, former banker, and his two sons, Clarence and Kenneth, all of whom are already under indictment and confined in Woodstock jail.

The man was found on the streets of Chicago last January and sent to the state penitentiary at Joliet. He wore a service button, but there were no clues to his identity, nor could he enlighten his jailers.

His family and wife were sent to Washington, where the prints of all men and women who served in the army, navy and marine corps during the war are kept on file. They proved to be those of James Marion, Company C, 122 machine gun battalion.

Carl Roy G. Swindell of the service department promptly instituted proceedings to recover back compensation pay and benefits which he received word from Washington that a check for $3,460 was on the way. Marion is now in the state hospital at Elgin.

The indictments charge the obtaining of money under false pretenses and by embezzlement. John F. Miller, a greenhouse keeper, is mentioned as one complaining witness. Miller is accused of loaning the fisheries company $30,000, taking stock as security, and other bills may be voted tomorrow, June 1, in an airplane and escorted by twenty-four French military planes, arrived in Paris this evening.

"LOVE PARLOR" IN CHURCHES URGED TO SAVE GIRLS

Vigilance Society Told of Vice Clean-up.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Chief of Police Collins' denunciation of former vice conditions in the back yard of the "gold coast," a social worker's charge that hundreds of Illinois high school girls left the classroom last year for the maternity hospital and a doctor's room or "love parlors" in churches, featured a mass meeting of the Illinois Vigilance Society held last night at the Y. M. C. A.

Wedding complete war on commerce called vice, Chief of Police Morgan Collins, former captain of the Chicago police station, declared the near north side was, until recently, one of the vice spots in the city's vice crusade. Explains North Side Vice.

A dancing teacher was cited by the chief as one of the notorious examples, "with her mansion on North Michigan boulevard. She was hard to run out, but we closed her up."

The vice district just back of the "gold coast" is due, he explained, largely to the number of young men and women from out of town living in small hotels and cheap rooming houses. This district, he stated, is one of the sections affected by the recent 22 per cent "clean up" in commercialized vice.

Following Chief Collins' speech, Philip Yarrow of the Vigilance Society offered a resolution backing the new chief of police and Mayor Devee in their honest, fearless prosecution of vice in Chicago, in contrast to the previous administration.

Tells of School Girl Vice.

Declaring that the average age of the illegitimate children had decreased within the last few years from 20 to 16, Mrs. Jessie Howlett told that in many cases the freshman high school girl of 16 was expelled from school because she was about to become a mother.

Look of interest on the part of parents, women's clubs, and churches was, she declared, responsible for the large number of "border line" moralities among girls of teen age.

"Our girls are now being taught, by the bad movies, by bad literature, and by dance halls that immorality is unusual. They are told that sex induction is 'normal.' At first they are shocked. Pretty soon they begin to want to be 'normal.'

Urge "Love Parlors" in Churches.

De Lee Alexander Stone made a plea for "love parlors" in churches or civic centers.

The working girl with a cheap hall "homom," he said, "has no place in which to entertain her sweetheart. Every street corner in Chicago is made into a parlor. Every dance hall is a parlor. And too often the cheap hotel is made into a parlor."

The churches should be open 365 days a year. Every public dance hall in the city should be abolished, and in their stead the city should establish civic centers if it wishes to protect the morals of its youth."

The program included Charles S. Patterson of the county board, ex-Judge John P. McClosky, Judge William E. Helander, and Ald. Donald S. McKinlay.

Banker Tires of This Beauty

[Pacific and Atlas, Photo.]

Memphis, Tenn., May 31.—Hearings on the taking of depositions in proceedings which seek annulment of the marriage of Mrs. Eleanor Elaine Lee Harris and Beverly D. Harris, New York banker, will probably end here tomorrow when M. R. Patterson, former governor of Tennessee, and J. J. Williams, former mayor of Memphis, will be called to testify for Mrs. Harris, the defendant.

Mr. Harris charges that his wife misrepresented her parentage and that she was guilty of misconduct prior to their marriage in St. Louis.

Mr. Avery, testifying for the New York banker today, asserted that the defendant was the "Ella Lee" he had known here in 1911, and that she was then 13 years old. On cross examination Mr. Avery admitted he had testified in a hearing in New York that the girl he knew here by that name was between 22 and 23 years old and that his expenses in going to New York to testify had been paid by Mr. Harris.

Scandalous disclosures are promised by Mr. Harris when the case is called for trial in New York. She denies the petitioner's allegations.

RULING REMOVES ABEL DAVIS AS STEGER TRUSTEE

Another legal battle for the control of the $3,000,000 estate of John V. Steger, piano manufacturer, was precipitated yesterday in an Appellate court decision ordering the removal of Brig. Gen. Abel Davis as trustee of the property.

Rehearing of the petition of Charles Steger, son of the late millionaire and president of the Steger & Sons Piano Manufacturing company, seeking the appointment of Charles P. Byrne as trustee was ordered in the decision, which holds that Circuit Judge George F. Rush "abused discretion in appointing Abel Davis."

The working girl with a cheap hall "homom," he said, "has no place in which to entertain her sweetheart. Every street corner in Chicago is made into a parlor. Every dance hall is a parlor. And too often the cheap hotel is made into a parlor."

The church should be open 365 days a year. Every public dance hall in the city should be abolished, and in their stead the city should establish civic centers if it wishes to protect the morals of its youth."

The program included Charles S. Patterson of the county board, ex-Judge John P. McClosky, Judge William E. Helander, and Ald. Donald S. McKinlay.

"DIAMOND JOE'S" CAFE IS RAIDED BY DRY SQUAD

Auto Load of Liquor Taken from Esposito's.

"Diamond Joe" Esposito's Bella Napoli cafe, bright light of the near west side, was invaded at 8 o'clock last night by federal prohibition agents working under A. P. Harris, chief general agent, who carted away an automobile load of assorted booze and arrested three waiters.

The dry agents swooped down on the cafe at 880 South Clark street shortly after the night's revels began.

The waiters were taken to South Clark street station, where they soon were able to procure bonds of $1,000 each. Then they hurried back to the cafe.

Esposito was a candidate for county commissioner at the last election and Republican county committeeman from his ward. Brightly dressed girls sought to make up in song what patrons were denied in drink.

The federal agents said they had seized thirty gallons of red wine and forty bottles of Italian wines and liquors. "Diamond Joe" was not at the cafe when the raid was made.

Two Ply Inquiry.

The June federal grand jury, to be impaneled early next week, is expected to conduct a sweeping investigation into every branch of the prohibition office in Chicago. It was said today following further revelations in the alleged bribing tactics pursued in the dry office by Attorney John K. Monahan, who is alleged to have bribed men and young women employees in fraudulently getting whisky. It is known that the new jury will take up every phase of the transactions and it is said the present grand jury, in its report today, will pass on to its successors the Grommets & Ulrich booze split investigation.

Poly Other Trials.

The double barrelled investigations into the dry office will surely develop into other departments, according to a high government official, and these leads will be followed through to the end, indictments being voted when warranted, regardless of whether they hit government employees or outsiders.

Miss Abbie Corrigan, 552 West 62d street, a clerk in the prohibition office, who was reported to have confessed, was questioned by the grand jury for three hours, and it is believed she repeated her confession in detail, describing the methods said to have been used by Attorney Monahan in obtaining liquor withdrawal permits or applications forged in the names of Catholic hospitals and institutions.

W. J. SKA CANCELS OPERATIC TOUR OF POLISH CITIES

Conservation descended upon the house of Ganna Walska this afternoon and the respondent operatic career of Brig. Gen. Abel Davis as trustee of the property.

With much expenditure of American dollars, Polish temperament, and French tact, Mrs. Walska called off the enterprise.

New York, May 31.—[Special.]—For the first time in history an airplane equipped with less horsepower than a Ford automobile, and yet capable of traveling at a rate of 75 miles an hour, will fly over New York City tomorrow. The ship is the now famous two-ply "flying flivver" from France.

It will be piloted by Georges Barbot,

the young Frenchman who recently won 25,000 francs by flying the same plane over the English channel.

Barbot will fly from Roosevelt Field, near Westbury, Long Island, at five o'clock tomorrow afternoon. He will land approximately 1 hour later on the parade grounds at West Point.

On leaving Long Island, Barbot will take a course that will carry him

He will fly at 3,000 feet, passing over the city and flying up the Hudson river to the military school.

When asked today how much gaso-for the flight, Barbot said that one gallon would be sufficient.

8,000 CHILDREN BOMB HARDINGS WITH FLOWERS

Musical Pageant Turned Into Juvenile Riot.

Lucky Ones Arouse Envy.

Most of the marine band program had gone off as scheduled. A number designated as "The President's Surprise," was a drill by several hundred kindergarten tots, who after completing their exercises, gathered around the presidential stand and seated themselves behind the President's chair.

The sight of the little ones basking in the presidential favor was too much for the others, and with a wild whoop they rushed from the bleachers. Marines who had stopped the Germans

IMPRISON MAN, SEIZE DIVORCEE WED WITHIN YEAR

Violation of the Illinois statutory prohibition against remarriage within a year after divorce—heretofore almost a dead letter so far as punishment was concerned—yesterday caused the imposition of a penitentiary sentence of from one to three years upon Bernard Krell, a Roosevelt road furrier, and the arrest of Mrs. Willis Marshall Ward, wife of Judge Henry C. Ward of Sterling, Ill.

Mrs. Ward was seized as the result of a warrant sought by her step-son, Assistant District Attorney P. F. Ward, who told a Superior court justice that the marriage of his 22 year old father to a January 1922, to Mrs. Ward, who is 35 years old and a former Chiongoan, took place within six weeks, after her divorce in the Superior court here.

Well Known in Washington.

Announcement of their marriage at Cedartown, Ga., was made by Mrs. Ward at a dinner given by her on January 10 at the New Willard in Washington, D. C., where she is well known in society.

Only last Saturday Judge Ward, an active member of the Whiteside county bar for forty-two years, judge of the court of appeals for three years, and of the Sterling city court for four years, filed a petition in the latter court for annulment of his marriage to the Chicago divorcee.

Informed of her step-son's action, Mrs. Ward became hysterical and finally collapsed. While one party of court attaches guards her in the upper floor of the Ward mansion, another is stationed below to prevent removal of the household furnishings.

One Wife After Another.

It is charged that wives and children followed one another in such quick succession in the life of Krell that, until Judge Hugo Pam found him guilty of violating the remarriage clause in a recently granted decree, the furrier was not sure of his own marital status.

Five children born in the thirteen years during which Krell acquired and divorced six wives are inmates of charitable institutions. It was disclosed. Mrs. Della Hallman Krell, the sixth wife, whom he married almost immediately after his divorce from Mrs. Molly Felsenfeld Krell and deserted within a few weeks, caused the furrier's arrest in New York several weeks ago.

QUESSE'S PRISON TERM AFFIRMED BY HIGH COURT

Two years ago. The trial was held before Judge John A. Swanen and was one of the most sensational hearings in recent years.

Law on All Contingencies.

In their final affirmances for the defendants declared that the word "boycott" was not legally defined, and therefore the men could not be found guilty of "boycotting." It was also contended that two counts in the indictment were identical, and inasmuch as the men were found not guilty on one they should be treated the same on the other. Every point raised by the defendants was rejected.

The other two convictions are Eugene Fosdick, recording secretary of the union; John D. Sullivan, secretary and treasurer, and Business Agents Claude F. Peters, Robert Osterberg, Frank McWatters, John Mattis, Peter Lagey, Gus Anderson, and George Waters.

Jury "Fixing" Charge Recalled.

The ten were tried twice. After the first trial, about a year ago, there were reports that the jury had been "fixed" and had been given an acquittal. The jury voted 8 to 2 for conviction.

JEWS CHEER AS FUND IS CLOSED AT $2,751,000

More Gifts to Come, Reports Hint.

Cheers marked the close of the Jewish annual drive for $2,500,000 to provide building funds for hospitals and other charitable institutions in Chicago yesterday in the home offices at 251 Plymouth court. Jacob M. Loeb, general chairman, chalked up $2,751,000 on a blackboard around which were grouped 120 team captains and others.

The money raising campaign was officially opened at a mass meeting in the Auditorium theater May 6. Indications are that even the sum now pledged is considerably below what the final returns will show.

"There are about 1,000 good prospects to be heard from," said Mr. Loeb.

who is a former president of the board of education. "But, without going beyond the record already made, the achievement surpasses anything of the sort ever accomplished by a Jewish community anywhere."

This success shows that the more recently arrived Jews in Chicago are rapidly acquiring the American spirit. The pledges made by thousands in the foreign Jewish districts indicate plainly the desire of these people for assimilation and their willingness to pay their share to provide institutions which will have an Americanizing influence on coming generations."

With the funds raised it is planned to erect a nurses' training school at Michael Reese hospital at a cost of about $1,000,000, to double the capacity of Mount Sinai hospital, and to build branches of the Jewish People's Institute. None of these institutions has been provided with expansion funds since 1912.

The largest single contributor in the Jewish drive was Julius Rosenwald, who gave $150,000. There were several $50,000 subscriptions and scores of $10,000 or more.

OF ISHEVER TO NAME
BOARD TO SIFT
CAR PAY DISPUTEMum on Conference with Heads of Lines.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

It's no better and no worse," said Mayor Dever last night, "as the status of the threatened street car and "L" strike. He commented following conference with Henry A. Blair, president of the Chicago Surface Lines, and Sam L. Hall, head of the elevated, gas and electric utilities, in which the "complaint" side of the wage controversy was laid down before the mayor.

Mayor Dever is to have another meeting with Blair, Quinlan and William Tabor of the street car men's union tomorrow. So far nothing concrete has developed and no definite plan of conciliation or arbitration has been agreed upon but the administration has been busy laying a foundation.

Walk Car Men's Meeting.

Any definite move towards bringing about an adjustment, it appears, will wait until the meeting of the street car men Monday night, when they will act upon the report of their agents that the wage question is now in deadlock. When the time is deemed ripe Mayor Dever will designate a committee to try to effect an adjustment before the strike is tied up by an actual strike.

It may be the transportation committee, in whole or in part. "When I was in the council," remarked the mayor last night, "that committee more than once interested itself successfully in controversies of some sort. Tradition has it that union leaders took a gloomy view of the situation—they saw a strike impending as an almost sure thing. This year the union chiefs appear to be less in control of the unions than before.

Some of the older ones among the employers are pointing out that this time, in the event of a walkout, the strikers would be put in a settlement situation, against them, and with the city notched as never before and better able to withstand a tussle, the effect would be to send the street car system closer to its final goal as a mere feeder for rapid transit and the men would thus be handing another rap to the gods that lay the golden eggs.

Expect Strike Vote.

But no one appears to think those views will prevail. Opinion is general that Monday night a meeting will order a strike. According to the plan of attack, at least three days must elapse between the meeting and the taking of a strike vote. Then it would require a day to count, and the results of the ballot would then be submitted at a special meeting to decide on the date for the walkout if a strike were voted.

This process would take nearly all of next week, and the special meeting would not be held until Friday or Saturday. Whether Dever can set in motion machinery that will effect a settlement in the question. Yesterday both sides spoke plainly:

"It looks like a strike for a certain

THE NEXT THING ON THE PROGRAM

(Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.)

"ty," said Mr. Quinlan of the union.

"It appears that a strike is inevitable," said Mr. Blair of the street car companies. "And Chicago," he added, "is getting tired of a traction tieup every six months."

Mr. Blair got right among the men at the car barns and on the street cars that a strike will be clamped on and that it will last two or three days and then a settlement will be made. As was the case last year, many of the men appear to regard a walkout and a tieup of Chicago's traction system as a natural summer vacation.

As to a boost in fares as a side-kick for a wage raise, the city administration does not deem an increase in fares possible. This view is based upon the attitude of the state commerce commission in the old 5 cent and 6 cent fare cases. "It is the reason, too, why we are cracking the ice on a fare increase, sent to Gov. Small at Springfield instead of sounding out the commerce commission.

LA SALLE STREET
WIDENING AND BIG
ARCADE GET O.K.

Widening of La Salle street, from Washington street to Lincoln park, with an arcade along the west side as far north as Ohio street, was practically assured yesterday at a conference of property owners with John J. Sloan, president of the board of local improvement.

Mr. Sloan told the fifty property owners present in the case of the Burnham building being constructed at Randolph and La Salle streets, the use of the arcade will mean an increase of $37,000 annually in rents from the nineteen floors above the first floor, which will be taken by the city for the local improvement fund.

President Sloan said the city will spend $2,500,000 on a new La Salle street bridge, but that the $4,500,000 necessary for the street widening must come from the property owners in the form of assessments, as the public is in no mood to vote bonds to raise the money or any part of it at the present time. He added that the city is now in debt almost to the constitutional limit. At the public hearing, called for today, the property owners are expected to give formal approval to the project.

YANKEE CONSUL

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

STOCKHOLM, May 31.—[Tribune Radio.]—No increase in the bolshevik population of America from Sweden now is possible. By the step taken by the American consul general here, which incidentally is creating a sensation and considerable discussion by the press and public, persons not of good moral character, not law-abiding, or belonging to organizations aiming to overthrow any constitutional form of government, are barred from Sweden's quotas, beginning in June. Coming at a time when Sweden's 20,000 quota is filled, with additional thousands of workingmen anxious to go to America, the consul's action is one of the most important ever taken for the purpose of selecting emigrants at the source.

The consul's action followed the granting of a number of visas to apparently desirable men, who, afterwards, it turned out, were wanted by the Swedish police. The consul general, Dominic Murphy, then addressed a letter to the steamship company which handles most of the emigration, requesting that every emigrant for third class passage bring a certificate from his pastor or his church or a local government official saying that the would-be emigrant is "known to be of good moral character, not belonging to any organization whose mission is to destroy a constituted government."

In addition when the emigrants are ready to leave, the American Consul General Murphy administers oaths to the emigrants swearing that they are not "members of any organization which would destroy an existing government."

IMPORT BLOCKED TO RUSH THROUGH ROAD BOND BILL

Small Adherents Halted in Game of Grab.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Springfield, Ill., May 31.—[Special]—Gov. Small's routed forces reorganized today for an attempt to stampede the $100,000,000 road bond bill out of committee without further consideration.

They were stopped in the middle of their rush by Representative Frank A. McCarthy [Rep., Mass.], chairman of the house roads committee, who adjourned the committee to a small room in the capitol, and then adjourned again to a room in the governor's office, where he and another meeting when he was ready. Administration followers were left sputtering in confusion as the chairman walked out to take his seat in the house, which had reconvened on schedule time for a late session.

The riot broke spontaneously. The meeting had been orderly and vastly different from that of yesterday, when the house had its hands in the grab but no clear results.

The committee has added a total of seventy amendments to the road bill. Few of them today added any mileage. In fact, ten miles were taken out and three added, making a net reduction of seven miles.

Summoned by Governor.

During the early session of the house today Gov. Small's secretary, George D. Sutton, who has the privilege of the floor, rounded up administration followers and informed them the governor wanted to see them in his office. The orders were issued then.

The committee got a late start, Chairman McCarthy delaying the meeting until the arrival of highway department officials. Several committee members offered amendments making slight changes in routes. Then Representative Scholes [Rep., Peoria]

Gov. Small's floor leader, introduced a block of amendments slightly changing the language of sections relating to the issuance of bonds. These were adopted without protest.

Immediately shouts went up: "Fix it now." "Meet again at 8 o'clock." "Meet in the morning."

Causes Lively Row.

Pandemonium broke loose. "I was given to understand by the speaker that this bill would be on second reading before the whole house for consideration next Tuesday," said Representative Roe [Dem., Fayette].

"There was no such arrangement," said Chairman McCarthy. "The bill is in the hands of this committee. Everybody has had and will receive a fair deal. It is unfair for some of you to come in here and get what you want and then try to send this bill out. You are changing votes right now. You are killing your own bill. The committee stands adjourned."

"I move to report this bill to the house with a favorable recommendation," shouted Representative Ryan [Rep., Lawrence].

"You are out of order," the chairman ruled. "The committee has adjourned. The speaker has sent word up here twice for members to return to the house."

"When do we meet again?" somebody shouted.

"At the call of the chairman, the same as usual," roared Mr. McCarthy, leaving the room.

BIO IN A NEW EDITION.

Chairman McCarthy had left a sick bed today and his principal reason for refusing to say a time for another meeting was the condition of his health.

Representative Roe, who led a corps of downtown Democrats in support of Gov. Small's veto of Attorney General Brandeis's appropriation, did more than any of the governor's own crowd today in stopping the amendment stampede, which started yesterday and added 40 miles.

"It's time to draw a halt on this additional mileage," Mr. Roe declared. "Let's not make a joke of the bill and ourselves, too. I'm ready right now to cut out a lot of these amendments."

His words had effect. Small followers withdrew amendments.

DR. DE STEFANO, IN OFFICE, ENDS LIFE WITH ACID

Financial worries, together with the prolonged illness of his wife, are believed to have caused Dr. Joseph De Stefano of 323 South Superior to a prominent local physician, to commit suicide by taking poison yesterday in his office at 1245 West Madison street.

According to his son, Frederick W. De Stefano, a student in Northwestern medical college, the physician had been ailing for several months. He lived in New York until several weeks ago, when he returned to Chicago to be near his children. Both his daughters are married, one to Dr. M. Pellegrini, 801 South Ashland avenue; the other to Attorney Samuel L. Golian, 127 North Dearborn street.

Dr. De Stefano was found sitting at his desk, apparently asleep, by M. P. Capra of 2444 Polk street, a friend.

Attorney Romeo De Stefano is a brother-in-law of the physician.

CHILD SLAIN AS ONE AUTO HURLS SECOND ON WALK

Crushed Against House; Playmate Hurt.

(Picture on back page.) Two and one-half year old Teddy Kuchka of 1818 West Superior street, was killed and John Kuchka, 1828 West Superior street, was probably fatally injured last night when they were crushed against a building by an automobile which had been buried up to the sidewalk at Superior and Wood streets after a collision.

In a similar crash at the intersection of the street and Jeffery avenue an unidentified man was killed, while Frank Wilson of 2865 North Troy street died of injuries several days ago, bringing the county's toll of motor fatalities to 77 for the year.

Two Drivers Held.

Police holding Milton Mandel of 100 Crystal street, chauffeur for Sam Gatch, 2225 West Division street, and driver of the car which collided with one driven by Julius Negra, 1461 West Huron street, are held across the sidewalk, awaiting the trial of the two children, who are also being held.

The unidentified man, whose body was taken to undertaking rooms at 2111 East 84th street, was killed when three automobiles, driven, respectively, by Chester Koslak, Stanley Schuba, a city fireman, 11142 Esmond street, and a second unidentified man, came together at the busy intersection. According to Schuba, Koslak's coupe swerved his car and then crashed into the third machine.

Vampire Auto Hits Woman.

Believed to be the victim of a "vampire" motorist, Anna Maria Bedinger, 66 years old, of 2923 South Dearborn street, was found probably fatally under the viaduct at 23d street and Stewart avenue. Thomas Flynn, 3224 Emerald avenue, who was bound-hunting over the woman, was taken to the Dearborn street police station for questioning. He asserted he had stopped to offer assistance. Members of the woman's family had reported her disappearance on Wednesday.

MOONSHINE: 97.

Poison booze claimed its ninety-seventh victim this year in David Shiland, an unmarried janitor, living at 20 South Paulina street. Police asserted he had been addicted to intoxication.

Alpine, Tex., May 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Clara Phillips, alleged slayer of Mrs. Alberta Meadows last summer, is not a "tiger woman." So declared Mrs. Phillips to an Associated Press correspondent on the Sunset Limited, bound for the Pacific coast tonight. The train was putting on full steam up the mountainous incline with El Paso as the next stop.

"I have been pictured black, a hammer slayer—a tiger woman," she protested. "I never used a hammer one time. I am innocent and will prove it to the world."

BRIGANDS NEAR AGREEMENT TO FREE CAPTIVES

BULLETIN.
TIENTSIEN, May 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—All the foreign captives now held by the Suchow train bandits in their Paotkuo stronghold will be released in a few days, according to Maj. Robert A. Allen, U. S. army medical corps, who arrived here tonight accompanied by W. Smith, an Englishman, the two men having been released by the outlaws yesterday.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)—Copyright 1923. By The Chicago Tribune.)

TSAO CHUANG, May 31.—With John E. Powell of THE TIMES present among the negotiators, representatives of the Suchow train bandits and the Chinese government began a conference today in a political camp six miles from here, with a view to securing the release of foreigners seized and held as hostages by the outlaws.

Following the release of Maj. Robert Allen, medical corps, United States army, and W. Smith, an aged British tourist from Manchester, who left for Tientsien after four hours' sleep, the delegation of the authorities was turned to securing freedom for the twelve remaining.

Hopeful Feeling Exists.

Despite the strong difference among the bandits, a hopeful feeling exists.

Mr. Powell won the bandits over on the hardest point, regarding foreign guarantees, by stating that the only possible outcome for the situation, unless the captives were released, was foreign occupation, which even the bandits agreed.

The bandit chief, Mr. Powell the savior of Shantung, because he told them that he attended the Washington conference at which the Japanese were driven out. Foreign guarantees mean the return of the Japanese, Mr. Powell argued.

On the occasion of Roy Anderson's release the bandits were released at the conference, and the present negotiations were resumed at the point where they were interrupted two weeks ago by the Peking officials.

Maj. Allen and Mr. Smith before the negotiations. To this the outlaws agreed.

Chiefs at Parley.

Mr. Powell's argument as to the impossibility of foreign guarantees was reiterated at the conference which included the bandit chiefs, Sun Mei-Yai and Kouang Tien-kuo, Anderson, Mr. Powell, local gentry and two Chinese representing the government.

At the conference today strong differences developed among the bandits, since many oppose enlisting in the army, preferring to continue their banditry. It is impossible to estimate the number of the last faction.

Mr. Powell continues to use his labor scheme for developing Shantung, and apparently is making headway.

Both Maj. Allen and Mr. Smith were physically in fine shape, except for difficulties with their feet.

Hope Plus has cabled Father Lenfers, English priest who formerly lived in Tschin, who is working for the release of Sig. Musso, a rich Italian, whose health has been in bad shape, to remain at the bandit camp to comfort him.

New Orleans Honors Negro Who Left Big Estate

New Orleans, La., May 31.—John Hall, 50, Negro messenger in federal District court here for forty years, died early today leaving an estate of $60,000 to $100,000. He was probably the richest man in a like position in the city.

Hall's fortune grew from judicious investment of $25,000 left to him some years ago by French Judge F. C. Billings.

Hall's health was failing, and he had been kidnapped and robbed of $500.

He was released, but he had been beaten and was in a bad condition when he was found.

The court recessed today out of respect to Hall, and many officials will attend his funeral tomorrow.

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 31.—Less than $500,000, instead of many millions, as popularly estimated, is the value of the estate of the late Col. Colin P. Campbell, former British army officer and representative of the Duke of Argyle, according to a petition for probate of his will filed in Superior court here today.

With the exception of one small annuity to an aunt in England, Mrs. Campbell inherits the entire estate.

She is already wealthy in her own name, being one of the three heirs to the $50,000,000 estate of the late Lord

Leiter, 2d Earl of Marshall Field.

Mrs. Campbell, her brother, Joseph Leiter of Chicago, and Gerard Lawrence of England are named administrators.

U. S. PENETRATION OF LATIN AMERICA.

A recent edition of the Manchester Guardian Weekly devotes a column to an article on the financial penetration of Latin America by the United States. It is filled with peevish insinuations and evidence of British ill humor at such a development, but is also crowded with facts proving that it is a development already far advanced. The situation revealed is one which probably too few Americans realize. We should realize it and encourage it, and it will be to the great advantage of Latin America to do likewise.

Figures taken from the Federal Reserve Bulletin show that foreign loans subscribed in the United States have increased from $575,000,000 in 1920 to $889,000,000 in 1922, and of that increase $207,700,000 has gone to Latin American countries. Our loans to them have jumped from $38,500,000 to $246,000,000 in the three years. Such an increase indicates a growing appreciation in the United States of profitable trade relations with South and Central America. It can hardly fail to bind the various countries of the hemisphere more closely together in both an economic and social way.

It is a development greatly to be desired by all the countries directly affected. We can supplement the resources and supply the needs of the republics to the south, and they can do the same for us. Whenever in the past we have engaged in any economic or even political relationship with these countries it has been to their advantage as well as ours. Cuba and Panama owe us their independence. Haiti, Santo Domingo, and probably Venezuela owe us their freedom from European domination, and the two former owe us many material advantages, such as good roads, freedom from banditry, improved schools, higher standards of living, etc.

Argentina, Chile, and Brazil perhaps offer us markets superior to any of the others, and are equipped to reward us with payments in kind which we are unable to supply from our own natural resources.

It is encouraging to find that American capital is profiting by these opportunities. For many decades Europe has been taking the cream from them, and giving comparatively little in return. We can afford to do better. It is a logical field for American investment, located as it is at our doors. It contains no probabilities of foreign entanglements such as are contained in investments in European or Asiatic developments.

Such investment should be accompanied by closer social relationship and better general understanding of Latin American problems. Development, not exploitation, must be the program.

THEY PREFER JAIL.

One Arnold H. Brautigam, a real estate expert under the late city hall regime, has just incurred a four months' jail penalty rather than answer questions put to him at the grand jury inquiry. He not only refused to sign an immunity waiver, he refused to accept the protection of a grant of immunity against prosecution, and refused to answer questions on the ground that he might incriminate himself. In short, Brautigam is willing to go to jail rather than help a grand jury to ascertain facts in a legal inquiry.

Last Saturday in the Waukegan inquiry into jury bribing charges in the case of the Small trial, Mike Boyle took a sentence of six months rather than talk.

Why are these men willing to go to jail rather than testify? The answer is plain enough to plain citizenship. Men don't take such stiff punishment for nothing; there is something in both cases that is fighting hard to keep out of the light. If there were any doubt that these inquiries are justified in the public interest such incidents would remove it. If it were necessary to refute the charge that these inquiries were "mere politics," such incidents would refute it.

The misdemeanor committed by a legal majority of Chicago voters in introducing daylight saving time for their city should not go unpunished—so say the same legislators at Springfield who imposed on unwilling Chicago a prohibition law, search and seizure measures, and a host of other paternal regulations.

We cannot possibly see how any personal rights of outsiders or even of Chicago suburbanites are curtailed by the official clocks in Chicago being set an hour ahead in summer time; yet we hear talk about tyranny from the very persons to whom the thought of autonomy of cities is distasteful. Fortunately only a small percentage out of the fourteen hundred bills heretofore proposed to the Illinois legislature have been passed; the great majority of these suggestions have not even been reported on. Our lawmakers cannot, indeed, boast of having given us many good new statutes, nor can we see that there is any great need of anything of the kind. Let them rather pride themselves on having protected us against a large number of meddlesome edicts, and let them quite especially keep their hands off a measure like this Chicago daylight saving ordinance, which works well for a large community closely huddled together and places no coercion on any of our farming friends downstate.

they have fought because they did not like the other fellows. They have fought because destruction is a part of the scheme just as production is.

It requires an internationalist and world leader to be courageous that a finger can be put on a malign influence which projects an inherently peaceful people into war. The realist wants to examine the war before he says what caused it.

THE POINT OF VIEW.

A strike has been called by the United Mine Workers against the Coal River collieries at Huntington, W. Va., because two union men have been discharged without reason being given. That in itself is a commonplace in the relation of employers and union labor. But it happens in this case that the mines are owned by a stock company headed by the officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Warren S. Stone is president of the board. That makes the situation notable.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is probably the most advanced of any in the country. It owns or controls and operates several successful banks. It has proved itself highly capable in a business way. And that has not interfered with its effectiveness as a labor union working for the benefit of its members.

But now we come to a part of the ways. The Coal River collieries find that responsibility to investors—that is, to capital—as well as responsibility to labor goes with business management. There is a change of viewpoint. Read what Mr. Stone, the business man, says to the striking miners: "We are paying the union scale in West Virginia. We are paying the going rate in eastern Kentucky. Our men may organize if they want to, but we are not going to compel them to join a union. I don't know whether the men are members of the union or not."

Does that sound like the president of one of the strongest unions in the United States? It sounds to us more like John M. Glenn. It illustrates most vividly a change of viewpoint. It also illustrates the fact that two apparently opposed positions may be taken by one man. That is the important part of the whole incident.

Industry of any kind has responsibility to capital, or to investors, just as it has to labor. Capital nowadays recognizes its responsibility to labor. Labor is coming to recognize its responsibility to capital. Neither can prosper without the other. Those are economic facts beyond dispute. The West Virginia incident proves that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has learned a lesson.

It is a hard boiled business finding. Other unions will learn it. That will brighten the outlook for labor and capital alike.

SILLY STEEL.

The Illinois house of representatives by unanimous vote has denounced "Pittsburgh plus." It has passed a bill for a commission to take any measures necessary for abolishing the practice which hurts this state and is insisted upon by Mr. Gary and others who control the production of steel.

The steel industry is badly guided. It is maintaining practices and supporting principles which invite legislative intervention. It is opposed to necessary restriction of immigration. It wants cheap labor. It wants the twelve hour day. It backs the Pittsburgh freight rate to the price of steel made in Gary and sold in Chicago. It is a foolish mammoth.

It will get the legislatures and congress into its business, just as the railroads did, as the packers did, as other giant industries have done. Then it will be ridden to death. When a legislature enters a field of business to regulate and control, it never gets out. It remains, and after it has completed the reforms which could not be obtained otherwise it hounds the obstinate industry to death. Steel is inviting this now and it will be a sick giant when it gets it.

FOOD AT THE CAMPS.

A TRIBUNE reader writes as follows: "I notice in your paper today an article in regard to Chicago boys not making application to attend Camp Custer. I think you will find the same thing true in many of the downstate counties. I have not heard of one boy from Hancock or Adams counties who seems to want to go back to Camp Custer. I think if you investigate you will find it mostly because of the poorly cooked food given last year and, second, on account of the sand in that camp. You can't feed boys poorly cooked food and expect them to be made to like it. There was a glorious account of the time they were to have and the meals they were to receive before they went."

This revives a general complaint. The food at Custer and other camps was undeniably and inexorably poor, according to reliable evidence. There was money to buy good food and authority to hire competent cooks. But there was inefficiency in management, and the fault lay with the war department and its agents. It was a stupid mistake, for attendance on the camps is voluntary and it is the first rate importance that the physical conditions of the camps should be of the best. There is no reason why patriotic civilians should submit to discomforts imposed by incompetent management.

However, we are informed that complaint has had its effect and that special care has been taken this year to correct the mistakes of last. The Army knows how to provide good food and to make the camps comfortable, and we are assured it will do so.

Imperial twain, in glorious union wed—
Exquisite rib and unctuous cabbage-head:
There, ruddy-pink, and there, divinely pale,
Greetings and homage! Highnesses, all hail!
Blest be his wit, and may his high renown
To grateful ages still be handed down,
Who, heaven-inspired, succulence and strength
In such proportion give the world at length!

Alas! that king who wished each peasant's pot
Should hold a fowl: too bad he knew ye not;
Else had Millennium long ere now arrived:

The world and Bourbons peacefully had thrived!

Lives there an one whose sight hath not grown dim,
Whose sense olfactory still abides with him,
Can gaze on ye, and snuff that rare incense,
And yet—not—manful, appetent, intense—
Seize fitting tools, and gorgo and gormandise
Till sparkling circles dance before his eyes?

Ah, yes! Ah! O, villain spite that fills
This starving frame with indigestion's ill!

Out to the doctors! Down with Galen's breed!

Maugre their aid, Pretender's off his feed!

Hail and farewell, great K-and-K! I bink!

My thwarted maw with crackers and hot milk!

ALL LUNDIN JURY, BUT 2 TALK AND PICKING GOES ON

Criticize Lawyers and Will Be Removed.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Two jurors, who have been sworn to try the school board case in Judge Charles A. McDonald's court, will be removed from the box, probably today. This procedure was indicated yesterday when the last panel of four men had been accepted. Everybody in the courtroom knew that the other eight men in the box breathed a sigh of relief. Then Judge McDonald said:

"The jurors will go to their room. Gentlemen (addressing the lawyers), you will question another juror."

In a few minutes the mill was grinding again and the search for another juror was on. It is like finding a needle in a haystack. A regiment of men, 1,000, marched through the court before the original twelve were snared.

Reported Hostile to Attorneys.

Jurors who will be removed have expressed such irritation, and even hostility, against certain attorneys in the case, it is said, that the court considers it unwise to retain them in the box.

One of the men is Charles A. Hill, 206 South Francisco avenue, a "trouble shooter" for the Commonwealth Edison company.

After the court session Tuesday afternoon, when it looked as though the jury would never be completed, several jurors bitterly expressed their sentiments. Hill in particular directed his wrath at an attorney for the defense. He is said to be sorry for his words now, but the court has consented to have him removed.

Hope to Get Panel Today.

Seventy-eight men were examined yesterday in the search for the panel. No progress was made. The lawyers for both sides will make a desperate effort today to complete the jury so the case can go to trial next Monday.

The four sworn yesterday were:

William E. Hess, 3725 North Racine avenue.

T. B. Denham, 48, 11217 Eggleson avenue, employ of Western Steel Car company.

Laddie Turak, 32, 1858 South 49th avenue, Cicero, foreman for Western Electric company.

Charles E. Watt, 45, 5720 South Justine avenue, inspector for the Central Inspecting and Weighing bureau.

Watts was the last man chosen. Selection of the jury began April 23 and the cost to the county was $1,000 in the special fund appropriated by the county board to pay for the prosecution.

Frank S. Polivka of Brookfield, an employ of the Western Electric company, was under examination when court was adjourned.

KITCHIN DIES; LED CONGRESS IN WAR TIMES

Wilson, N. C., May 31.—(By the Associated Press)—Representative Claude Kitchin, former Democratic leader of the lower house of congress, died this morning at a hospital here surrounded by members of his family. He was 54 and had been in ill health since he suffered a slight stroke of paralysis after an impassioned address in congress in 1920.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow in the family lot in the Little Baptist cemetery near Scotland Neck, the residence of the Kitchins.

Americans generally associate the name of Claude Kitchin with the Democratic leadership of congress from the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson until the Republican party won the election of 1918 and organized both branches of congress.

Mr. Kitchin went to congress from the Second North Carolina district in 1901 and had served in every congress from the Fifty-seventh to the Sixty-first.

He was born in Northfield, Cook county, June 19, 1861. During the civil war, he served in the 8th Illinois cavalry, and the 1st Illinois volunteers. He was a charter member of the Egglewood Baptist church; the last living member of the Egglewood Masonic Lodge No. 680; past president of the American Flag Day association; and at his death was superintendent of Burial Places, Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Mr. Kitchin went to congress from the Second North Carolina district in 1901 and had served in every congress from the Fifty-seventh to the Sixty-

first.

DR. JOSEPH SMITH PAGELL, west side practitioner for thirty-one years, died at his home, 1300 W. Division street, on the West Side hospital, will be buried this afternoon with services at 1 o'clock from his home, 5360 Washington boulevard. He died Wednesday.

BOY WHO SHOT SELF DIES.

Bernard Jacobson, 13 years old, of 9419 North Paulina, died at 11:30 a.m. yesterday from blood poisoning, the result of a wound suffered on May 11, when he accidentally shot himself in the leg with his revolver.

He was a member of the American Bond and Mortgage company. The funeral will be held on Saturday at 2:15 p.m. from the residence, 8941 North Hoyne avenue, Beverly Hills.

MRS. BERYL GILBERT BILLS died in Chicago on Wednesday. She was active in community center work and for several years was a director of drama in Hyde Park Baptist church. She was formerly head of the department of public speaking in the local high school. She was born in 1885, the daughter of Albert and Ida Gilbert. Her husband is sales director of the American Bond and Mortgage company.

The funeral will be held on Saturday at 2:15 p.m. from the residence, 8941 North Hoyne avenue, Beverly Hills.

EDWARD W. TRASK, Aurora jeweler, died at age of 84.

Edward W. Trask, head of the jewelry firm of Trask & Plain of Aurora, died at his home, 112 South Lincoln avenue, Aurora, on Tuesday, at the age of 84. Mr. Trask, who was one of the best known men in the trade in the state, went to Aurora from Chicago in 1885. Funeral services will be held at 9:15 o'clock tomorrow morning at Mount Carmel church. Burial will be at 10:15 a.m. at Mount Carmel cemetery.

RAILHEADS TALK OVER SOUTH SIDE TERMINAL PLANS

Reclamation for industrial purposes of railroad property just south of the loop and the opening up of four more arteries to the south side—Dearborn, La Salle, Wells, and Franklin streets—was admittedly a step nearer yesterday.

Officials of the New York Central and Rock Island railroads met and discussed each other's plans. While nothing concrete came of the conference, it was said an agreement in sight. Their joint action is said to be the first requirement to stimulation of two, and possibly three, of the four south side railroad terminals.

Station Decision Soon. A decision on whether all the railroads now coming into the La Salle street, Polk street, and Grand Central depots will enter the Illinois Central station when it is completed or build a joint passenger station, is to be reached soon, it was announced.

The hitch is over the relative costs.

In the Illinois Central's case, not in excess of the cost of the other plan, the other railroads are said to favor entering the proposed lake front station. If not, the site of their new station will be on Harrison street from

Sherman street to the river, it is understood.

Each Railroad Has Plans.

Each railroad has drafted its own plans, all of which may never be merged into one definite program, it was explained. The Chicago railway terminal commission, a public body, has a "neutral" plan of its own,

which includes the straightening of the south branch of the river. This may or may not later be accepted by all the roads. Edward J. Noonan, engineer member, said yesterday.

Digging a new channel straight south from Harrison street from Polk street to 17th street will mean up 200,000 square feet," he stated. "The cost of digging, building of new wharf walls, and changing of bridges will be offset by the increased valuation, which will be at least $15 per foot, or

$3,000,000."

SOME HOSPITALS ARE FIRETRAPS, BOSTROM AVERS

Several Chicago hospitals are "fire traps," Building Commissioner Bostrom declared yesterday after he had received a letter from Mayor Dever requesting him to make "an immediate inspection" of all Chicago theaters, churches, school buildings, and public halls, to make sure that they conform to the city and state fire prevention laws.

He asked for a report on conditions and directed that the commissioner make a compilation of the laws intended for public safety and call them to the attention of owners and managers of public buildings.

"The compilation is prompted by the thought that these precautionary measures may protect the public against these dangers, so that neither you nor I may have an occasion in the future to feel that something we might have done could have averted the fire," the mayor's letter says in closing.

Crating material valued at $1,000 and tomatoes valued at $500 were destroyed.

George Mowatt, alleged "firebug burglar," is still held by Englewood police in an effort to extract more information before he is transferred to the county jail. He is said to have admitted setting fire to seven buildings that he might rob nearby homes during the excitement. Two other men, believed to have been Mowatt's accomplices, are being sought.

Another impressive tribute to the complete dependability of Delco Ignition was the fact that seven out of ten winners also drove cars having Delco Ignition.

This remarkable performance was a repetition of the winning of supremacy by Delco last year at Indianapolis, when nine out of the first ten cars—including the winner—were Delco equipped.

In 1921, all ten winners—and the year before that, seven of the first ten cars, including the winner, were also equipped with Delco Ignition.

When Tommy Milton in his H. C. Special thundered past the checkered flag as winner in this year's great 500 mile race on the Indianapolis Speedway, it marked the fourth successive time that a car equipped with Delco Ignition had won this event.

closer upon the recent first transcontinental non-stop airplane flight from New York to San Diego, made by Lieut. Mac-Ready and Kelly in a Delco-equipped plane.

In addition, nine world airplane records were established over the Dayton aviation fields on April 16 and 17—all with planes having Delco-equipped Liberty engines. Delco Ignition was also used on the famous NC-4, the navy plane that made the first trans-Atlantic non-stop flight, and on the planes that, a few days ago, completed the first Gulf-to-Canada non-stop flight.

These splendid achievements certainly establish Delco as the world's foremost automotive ignition system—yet such victories are merely indicative for the degree of service that Delco equipment is providing every day on millions of the finest motor cars.

Red Crown The High-Grade Gasoline Has the Punch

It follows through—there is no half-hearted piston stroke; neither is there a slapping piston stroke to rattle your engine. Instead, Red Crown imparts a steady, steam-engine-like pressure to the piston that sustains and follows through the length of the stroke. That explains both the smooth flow of rhythmic power and the abundance of sustained pulling power. Red Crown offers to the motorist

The Utmost of Service

It has all the intrinsic merit that science has been able to put into any gasoline. It is manufactured so that it will vaporize at just the correct temperatures, to cause instant starting—a quick, snappy getaway—a smooth, gliding acceleration—tremendous power—racing speed if you want it—and most miles per gallon.

HUNGER DOC MAY FACE GRAND JURY QUIZ ON DEATHS

Grand jury proceedings against Dr. George E. Boffenmeyer, medical director of the Bohemian National cemetery and mortuary, in which the treatment of patients is alleged to have consisted of "starvation and cold water," were forecast yesterday when state and DuPage county officials decided to hold a meeting next Wednesday at which all evidence will be consolidated.

This decision followed the exhumation of the body of Mrs. Mamie Kolar, one of three alleged victims of the treatment. It was found, according to officials that Mrs. Kolar had not suffered from cancer, the disease the which Boffenmeyer is charged with treating her.

Many Officials Watch Case.

Those present at the exhumation in the Bohemian National cemetery were Inspector John W. Follmer of the state department of registration and education, State's Attorney Chauncey W. Reed and Coroner William W. Hopf of DuPage county, Coroner's Physician William H. Burmeister of Cook county, and Dr. H. J. Migley, DuPage county physician.

Dr. Thomas Lawson, the Hinsdale physician who attended the woman after her discharge from the mortuary, and who was the first to charge that lack of nourishment had contributed to her death, also was present.

"The body showed marked evidences of lack of food," declared Inspector Follmer, "according to the physicians. There is no doubt that the death was hastened by the so-called 'starvation treatment.'"

Ask License Revoked.

A report has already been turned in to A. M. Shelton, director of the state department of registration and education, recommending that Dr. Boffenmeyer's license be revoked.

Two other bodies are said to have died shortly after leaving the mortuary. These are Miss Gertrude Klasges, 1545 West 58th court, and Herbert Taylor, 8203 South Green street. Search is being made for other deaths among former patients and for patients who say they suffered from the treatment.

Huie Calumet Drain Job Awarded to 2 Contractors

Contractors are ready to start work on the Burns ditch project to cost $1,000,000, which is expected to clear 1,000 acres on the Little Calumet river and to reclaim thousands of acres between Hammond and Gary.

The contract for the stretch between the lakes and the river has been awarded to the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company, and that of straightening the river for seven miles east of Gary to the Northern Construction company of Elkhart.

STATE, CITY TAKE TURNS AT TOLLING KNEEL OF BOXING

Woe which the hangars-on of boxing pulled down on themselves and all boxing fans by rioting at the Leonard-Mitchell bout at the Dexter park pavilion Tuesday night continued to pile up yesterday.

At Springfield information came straight from the executive offices that, should the senate pass the boxing bill, which was approved by the lower house on Tuesday, Gov. Small will flatten it out with a veto as he did a somewhat similar bill two years ago.

The governor discussed the Dexter pavilion riot with Mayor Dever while reviewing the Memorial parade in Chicago on Wednesday, and has been hostile to the bill since it was introduced in the house by Representative Eppstein of Chicago.

Even friends of the boxing bill began to concede its defeat, declaring that the bare majority planned to put it through the senate had melted as a result of Tuesday's rioting.

Delay on Test Arrive.

City officials said that Mullen had failed to keep an agreement to name a spectator who would submit to arrest so that the section of the law prohibiting the witnessing of a boxing exhibition in Illinois could be tested.

Ad. McDonough scurried around until he found a friend, John Gallagher of 1151 Parnell avenue, who consented to be charged with witnessing Tuesday's fight.

"If those who made promises that Tuesday's fight would be used to test the law fail to keep their agreement, we will ask the courts to enjoin every association or promoter who announces a boxing match in the city," Assistant Corporation Counsel Leonard J. Grossman said after a conference with Mr. Busch.

Are YOU Laboring Under a False Impression?

Capper & Capper Fine Suits Can Be Had for as Little as

$50

IN the above caption there is much food for thought—especially to the man who labors under the impression that Capper & Capper clothes can not be purchased for less than $85 to $100.

Our ability to offer Capper & Capper suits at $50 illustrates the practical workings of our new merchandising plan, which is fast revolutionizing the clothing industry. Its influence is felt in every branch of manufacturing and selling. It assures the highest qualities—and minimizes the costs.

Under the "new order of things," we purchased earlier in the season a quantity of reserve yardage of fine woolens, from which we have produced about five hundred Capper & Capper suits to sell at $50. And they're the finest $50 suits you ever saw. You'd expect to pay much more—and they're worth much more.

We suggest that you visit the store today, and see these "finer" $50 suits with your own eyes. You'll quickly detect the "heart and soul" effort we've put into the making of them. And if you've gathered the impression that because Capper & Capper clothes are the finest in America you can't afford to wear them, these $50 suits will prove a most agreeable surprise.

MAINTENANCE OF WAY MEN GIVEN BOOST BY N. P.

Hill Road Settles Dispute Outside of Board.

Substantial wage increases to several thousand maintenance of way employees on the Northern Pacific railway, adding millions to the annual pay roll, have been granted following negotiations between representatives of the carrier and the men, according to a report here last night.

Details were lacking, but similar recent adjustments have provided a boost of $10 a month for bridge and building foremen and from 1 to 4 cents an hour for other groups in the maintenance department.

The maintenance brotherhood now has a wage dispute involving the Northern Pacific, on which the United States railroad labor board and carrier have been heard June 11, with others of this class. However, it probably will be withdrawn today, when A. F. Stout, vice president of the union, who has been out of the city, returns.

From St. Louis, Mo., E. E. Coker, general manager of the Wabash railway, denied a report that that road had reached a wage increase agreement with its maintenance men.

Pieces Work Order.

Sixty days of grace in abolishing the piece work system in its shops employing 16,000 men were granted the New York Central railway yesterday through a United States railroad labor board amended decision, suspending for that period, as a minimum, the board's order of March 21 directing immediate return to the hourly basis.

The delay is to give the carrier opportunity to petition the labor board for sanction of the piece work plan. Meanwhile the shopmen are to receive a rate of pay which shall average not less than the hourly rate prescribed by the board.

Work "Farmed Out."

This case was filed by the shop crafts about a year ago and heard less than a month later. Evidence showed the New York Central closed its car shops in February, 1921, "farming out" most of its repair work until November of that year, when it reopened several shops on the piecework basis.

The union contends this establishment of the piece work plan was established without the conference and consultation required by the transportation act, maintaining it has conferred with the carrier in October and November, 1921, but received a New York Central proposal that the shops be reopened provided the employees agreed to piece work.

Replying to Wednesday's statement from six members of the Western railway presidents' committee on public relations, Donald R. Richberg, general counsel for the national conference on the valuation of railroads, last night countered that the railroads, including the executives were "running scared" in refusing to meet the issue and dragging the stale red herring of government ownership across the railroad highway.

FASCIST SERVES ULTIMATUM ON ENEMIES IN ROME

[Cablegram Wireless, Carlton News Service.]

ROMA, May 31.—[Tribune Radio.]—Rome was astonished today by the publication of an ultimatum by the Fascisti against their enemies. The ultimatum was printed in Premier Mussolini's own paper, the Popolo d'Italia of Milan, and reproduced in all the papers of Rome.

The ultimatum is in the form of an appeal to the Fascisti and is headed "Fascisti, to the communists and socialist leaders." It says: "In the last few days we have been raising again a protesting voice in the chamber of deputies, and old democrats, liberals, and republicans who are either openly against or skeptical about fascism. Some of the latter include members of the Fascisti who have failed to acquire the ideals of the organization in "soul and heart."

Some of the latter include members of the Fascisti who have failed to acquire the ideals of the organization in "soul and heart."

The ultimatum says that Sir Mussolini is aware of the fact that the Fascist revolution should do a great deal more than it has done, but from the beginning it has been his desire to accomplish the revolution gradually in the different phases. He says this time for the second phase has come. This increased the number of newspapers owned by Mr. Cox to four.

Is your product as well known to the—Housewife in the Philadelphia Trading area the richest territory in the United States as you would like it to be?

THE Philadelphia Trading Area comprises 5,500,000 people. Hundreds of thousands of them own their own homes. In every home, owned or rented, the housewife is the purchasing agent.

Outside of Philadelphia itself, but within its Trading Area, there are over 2,000,000 people, and the home, to these folks, is a place to live in. Thousands of them supply many of their needs in this city's stores, as well as at home, in response to the advertising in their favorite newspaper. By all of them, the old-fashioned market basket is used every day, and, both at home and on their shopping trips, they buy the same things Philadelphians buy, guided by the advertisements in THE NORTH AMERICAN.

When these women outside of Philadelphia, but belonging to its Trading Area, the richest territory in the United States, go to their local stores, or come to their metropolitan city, do they know of and ask for your product?

Think of it! More than 20,000 women of the many thousands who read THE NORTH AMERICAN are enrolled as members of its Cooking Club, organized by Mrs. Anna B. Scott. Mrs. Scott is a food expert and household economist with a national reputation. Her advice and suggestions in articles, recipes, menus and marketing lists appearing in the food pages of THE NORTH AMERICAN guide thousands of these housewives in the solution of their food problems.

In this rich and prosperous Philadelphia Trading Area, the influence and appeal of THE NORTH AMERICAN is equally strong with its men readers. They find in its Financial Review and Business Barometer the kind of guidance and information they need and seek in their personal and business affairs. In its Construction and Engineering Section they are kept informed in the development news and problems of the day.

All in all, THE NORTH AMERICAN makes a universal appeal to its large family of readers, as well to those residing in the Philadelphia Trading Area as to its city readers. These people, in large measure, own their own homes, have automobiles, and maintain charge accounts in Philadelphia stores. They are the kind of people able to purchase the good things of life.

Your aim is to get your product into the home. Here, then, is THE NORTH AMERICAN with 85% of its circulation home-delivered, and an unusual bond of unity between itself and its readers. Time and again, these readers have shown their wonderful responsiveness to the advertising in THE NORTH AMERICAN'S pages.

DUSSELDORF, May 31.—Cordon-like plans, munitions and a number of Red leaders were taken by the police in a raid on a secret headquarters in an apartment in a large cellar in the industrial section of Bochum early this morning.

Two activists were caught trying to steal incriminating documents in other subversive hangouts, and thirteen others were arrested. With the information obtained the police have arrested three men, and identified them as principals in the sparsitac uprising in the Ruhr two years ago.

Bombs and Land Mines.

In the first raid the police discovered a complete set of correspondence with radical units in other Ruhr cities and several dozen hand grenades, three incendiary bombs, wire and fuses for exploding land mines, revolvers and a pair of old rifles.

Being a religious holiday, many thousands of strikers did not report for work today despite the decision to return. Nineteen mines resumed working full time and nineteen parts or continuing idle in the vicinity of Düsseldorf.

Authorities at Gelsenkirchen estimate the damage done in the recent strike at $1,000,000.

As the coffers of the army of occupation are already overflowing with marks—127,000,000,000—the French are going after their money.

They seized the city of Oestrich today for the destruction of a bridge on the militarized line.

Every man who had spare change has been investing for the last three months in dollars when he could buy marks, but where the municipality is going to get them is another matter.

German Forces Mobilized.

PARIS, May 31.—[United Press]—German troops, including heavy artillery, cavalry and engineers, are massed at Münster, just outside the French army zone, according to a report from French sources at Crémieu.

20,000 Marks for Dollars.

BERLIN, May 31.—[United Press]—German marks broke the new record of 215,000 to the pound sterling [approximately 70,000 to the dollar] on the London exchange today.

Prices Go Up.

BERLIN, May 31.—The price of coal throughout Germany will be increased five cent beginning tomorrow in consequence of the further depreciation of the mark and the increase in wages granted to the miners, it was announced today.

HARDING WANTS G.O.P. COMMITTEE POST FOR WOMEN

Washington, D. C., May 31.—[Special.]—President Harding has communicated to some of his political advisers the fact that he is substantially in favor of doubling the Republican national committee to have a woman member from each state. As this would require action by the national convention, Mr. Harding is anxious that the Republican women should be given more power without waiting for a year.

To accomplish this the President favors the establishment at once of an advisory committee of Republican women which will have no legal power, as such, but which, in actual effect, could be powerful.

President Harding's position on this question is of vital interest just now because there is a sharp difference of opinion, not only among the members of the national committee but among some of the women who are recognized as leaders, as to what should be done prior to the meeting of the convention.

Some of the women are conducting a campaign for immediate recognition. They think the Democratic organization has succeeded in attracting women workers to a far greater extent than the Republican.

the Republican because the Democrats now have a legal national committee from every state. They already have what some of the Republican women think the organization ought to have.

While most of the women are agreed as to what ought to be done when the national convention meets, there is a division of opinion as to what ought to be done now. Some think it would be unwise to have the national committee of women appointed prior to the convention. They think this would favor a sop to the women workers and it would accentuate the difference in recognition of women as between the two party organizations.

The jolliest sort of an impromptu dance

WHEN it is on the spur of the moment it is the gayest of parties. Only music in tune to the mood will do. It is fine to know you can have the hit of the day in an instant. And have it played by a celebrated pianist—one whose playing is insistent invitation to dance. As you respond, you feel as if the artist should be visible at

The AMPICO IN THE KNABE

The leading pianists of the day play for you through this wonderful instrument. And not only does it bring you the best of dance music but the magnificent compositions of Brahms, Chopin, and Liszt are played by Levitzki, Ornstein, and Samaroff. You can enjoy them whenever you wish at the pressing of a button. Each performance is the re-enactment of the genius illustrated in the original playing. The Ampico is obtainable in the justly celebrated Knabe Piano in either upright or grand model. There is a pleasing choice of styles. Also in the Fischer and Franklin Pianos. Prices begin at $800. Convenient terms arranged.

Zonite.

The Greatest of all Antiseptics

What It Is

ZONITE is a concentrated, stabilized and perfected form of the Carrel-Dakin Solution. The Carrel-Dakin Solution is an antiseptic developed during the World War by two eminent scientists. War hospital records show that it reduced amputations and deaths from infection over seventy per cent and saved the lives of hundreds of thousands of desperately wounded men. It has been adopted and is in daily use by the medical profession and in hospitals throughout the civilized world.

By standard laboratory tests Zonite has more than three times the germicidal strength of pure carbolic acid. It has about seventy-five times the germicidal strength of peroxide of hydrogen and forty times the germicidal strength of any solution of carbolic acid, iodine, bichloride of mercury, etc., that can be applied with safety to the human body.

In addition to its high germicidal efficiency, Zonite is non-poisonous, non-irritating, non-caustic and healing. It can be used freely and frequently on the delicate membranes and tissues of the human body without harm.

What It Does

For Preventing Contagious Diseases

Until the discovery of this form of antiseptic, it was impossible to introduce freely into the mouth and nose any antiseptic solution at sufficient strength to destroy disease germs effectively. It is in the prevention of germ diseases, therefore, that Zonite finds one of its greatest fields of usefulness. During epidemics of colds, grippe, scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles, whooping cough, sore throat and other respiratory diseases, when every sneeze and draft scatters millions of germs, Zonite should be used frequently as a throat spray and nasal douche.

For Cuts and Wounds

Zonite should be promptly applied to a fresh cut or wound to destroy the germs which cause blood poisoning and other similar forms of infection. In addition to acting as a disinfectant, it will shorten the process of healing and greatly reduce the usual pain and inflammation.

As a Mouth Wash

A solution of one teaspoonful Zonite added to one-quarter glass of water used night and morning as a mouth wash will destroy breath odors and act as an excellent preventive against pyorrhea. Dental authorities have stated that the daily use of Zonite in this manner, together with regular dental inspection, reduces the likelihood of contracting this disease to a minimum.

Sore Throat

Nearly all the ailments of the throat are due to bacterial infection. Prompt relief, therefore, can not be obtained without the use of an effective germicide. One part Zonite to five parts water as a gargle or throat spray usually clears up and controls throat infections. In severe cases, especially when ulcerations are present, the throat should be swabbed with pure Zonite and your physician called. Begin treatment promptly when symptoms first appear.

For Burns, Scalds and Blisters

Zonite is especially valuable in the treatment of burns, scalds and blisters. It prevents infection, aids in removing charred or dead tissue, helps to reduce inflammation, and accelerates healing. It also lessens scars and disfigurements that are apt to follow wounds of this character.

For Insect Bites

As a relief from bee stings, mosquito bites, chiggers and many other insect bites, Zonite is particularly effective. If promptly used, the antiseptic will lessen the pain and reduce swelling and irritation.

Bad Breath (halitosis)

Breath odors are usually caused by a bacteriological condition of the mouth. Zonite is the one form of antiseptic with real germicidal power that can be used freely in the mouth. Its effect is far more thorough and far more lasting than pleasant tasting mouth washes heretofore used for this purpose.

For Body Odors

Objectionable body odors are caused by a germ (bacterium fuscum) which infects the sweat glands of the arm-pits, feet, etc. A scientific body deodorant must not only dispel the odor but destroy the germs which cause it. Deodorants which merely replace one odor with another or clog the pores are harmful and inefficient. Zonite kills the germs, destroys body odors promptly and effectively and leaves no odor of its own.

Rids the Home of Deadly Poisons

It is no longer necessary to keep the skull and crossbones type of antiseptic in the home. Zonite, while highly germicidal, can cause no fatal accident. It also supplants pleasant tasting mouth washes and gargles, heretofore in general use, that according to government reports, have no detectable germicidal power.

Zonite is a clear, colorless liquid that does not stain and leaves no odor. It is the last word of science on the subject of antiseptics. Ask your druggist for the Zonite "Handbook on Antiseptics," which describes fully the protection which the antiseptic brings to the home.

K. K. K. MEMBERS BEGIN COURT WAR; ASK A RECEIVER

Atlanta, Ga., May 31.—Judge John D. Humphries of the Fulton Superior court today signed a temporary order restraining officials of the Ku Klux Klan from executing any expenditures from the funds of the organization until June 9, when formal hearing will be had on a petition filed today by David M. Rittenhouse of Philadelphia and others, alleging gross mismanagement of the Klan's funds by Imperial Wizard H. M. Evans and his associates, and asking the appointment of receivers.

The petition also charged that Evans and Emperor William Joseph Simmons had turned the Klan into a "personal machine for the enrichment and personal aggrandizement" of themselves, and declared that the organization was breaking up through threats of "some of the realms" to secede and establish independent orders.

Funds Spent in Chicago.

Referring to alleged gross mismanagement of funds the petition continues:

"As instances and items of said gross waste and misappropriation and in diversion of the funds of said corporation by said defendants, petitioners aver that more than $50,000 was illegally expended in conducting a private political campaign in Chicago; that the loyal and useful newspapers belonging to the said corporation were discarded and discredited and scrapped because they resisted said wholesale and illegal waste and mismanagement, and other papers were subsidized by the payment of large sums of money to defendants to advertise said defendants and to assist them in their efforts to make a personal machine."

Dr. Evans is charged with having appointed Bertram G. Christian, head of the department of propagation in Illinois, under an alleged agreement that he and Christian would split $5 of their initiation fee on a fifty-fifty basis.

Charge Espionage System.

Evans, the petition alleged, maintained a large espionage system and on one occasion accepted an expenditure of $80,000 for agents for information which would aid him in retaining supreme power over the Klan.

The petition alleged that the election of Dr. Evans to be imperial wizard and Col. Simmons to be emperor was secret and illegal. Dr. Evans, it is charged, had placed in his hands $400,000 belonging to the organization when he assumed office, and it has since collected $785,000, but "the fund has dwindled to $125,000."

POLITICIANS—HERE DOUBT IT.

Chicago political leaders were first surprised, then dubious, and finally skeptical of the charges made in the Atlanta receivership suit against the Klan, to the effect that $50,000 of Klan money was authorized for expenditure in a recent Chicago political campaign.

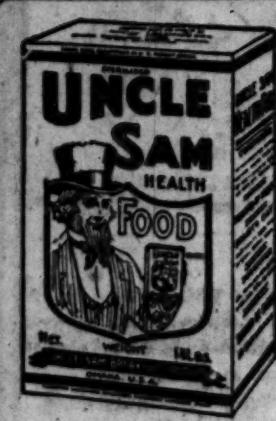

"I don't know of a cent of Klan money being spent in the 1923 mayoralty campaign," Attorney General Brundage, one of the backers of Arthur Lueder, Republican nominee, said. "I don't believe the $50,000 story for a minute. I don't think the Klan has made more than $100,000 to spend either in politics or out of it."

"The Democrats were not offered any of the $50,000, if any of it reached Chicago," said George E. Brennan.

BROKERS AND CROWD WAR ON BUCKET SHOPS

Forty Fly by Night Firms Target.

For a loss and we will be able to pay 100 cents on the dollar."

Because of numerous irregularities resulting from some of the recent brokerage failures, representatives of the New York district attorney's office visited the firm's general offices to arrange for a conservation of the books and other records. It was announced later that the books and records would not be removed from the jurisdiction of the court.

John E. Baker was a partnership composed of William R. Jones and Jackson B. Sella. It was formed eleven years ago in Chicago and had maintained headquarters in New York for about ten years. Branch offices were operated in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Baltimore, and Cleveland. A branch in Kansas City, Mo., was to have been opened next week.

The firm had a weekly pay roll of about $25,000 and was said to have had extensive bank loans. The banks carrying the loans stated, however, that they were ample secured with high grade collateral. The firm was said to have accounts also with banks in several of the cities with branch offices.

Jones Answers Questions.

Jones submitted to questioning by reporters in New York after handing over his formal statement.

"When did the firm start allowing customers to sell short?" Jones was asked.

"On February 1, last," he replied, going on to explain: "We adopted that policy because it was our observation that less than 2 per cent of the run of customers operated on the short side of the market. The clerical work involved in carrying a short account, in contradistinction to the long account, made the task entirely out of proportion with the possible revenue."

"How many representatives did you have on the floor?"

"No salaried representatives. Our business was given out on commission."

"Was your firm interested in any other curb market firm?"

"No, and it never has been."

These Banks Involved.

"What is a list of the banks involved in the loans?"

"Those I recall off-hand are the New York Trust company, Guaranty Trust company, Seaboard National bank, company, Standard Mutual bank, Metropolitan Trust company, Commercial Exchange National bank of Philadelphia, Merchants National in Boston, Keystone National in Pittsburgh and the State bank in Chicago."

Counsel for the receiver interposed to assert that "it would be ridiculous to think for a moment that any of these banks has in any way been affected by this situation."

Officials of the banks named by Jones asserted that the advances they made were well secured, collateral in every case consisting of Liberty bonds or other high grade securities.

Announcement of the receivership resulted in prices on the curb for a brief period during which there were a great many transactions "under the table," but not changes in prices of listed securities were little affected.

5 Dinner Tables set for one reader

The Digest has the selling power that 1,300,000 good homes naturally mean, and it has 2,000,000 women readers in these homes.

It has the dealer influence that 280,374 jobbers and retailers exercise.

It has the moral influence that 359,757 professional men exert in their capacity as official advisers.

And more than that—a large percentage of its readers offers multiple markets in many lines.

We know what our subscribers do, and not only what they do, but what position they occupy in their respective gainful occupations.

And because that position is so frequently a high one—owner, officer or executive—such subscribers are a multiple market. They are buyers, not only as home-owners and providers, but also for business houses, factories and institutions. They have a multiple buying personality.

For instance:

Mr. A, a staunch reader of The Digest, is one of our 6,347 readers who are owners or executives of department stores.

Mr. A presumably has a good home. In that home are set every day two tables—one in the dining-room and one in the servants' hall.

At Mr. A's store there is a public restaurant where his customers lunch. There is also a private dining-room for Mr. A and his associates. There is likewise a large lunch-room for his sales-people.

Here are five tables set daily, some of them for hundreds of covers, the buying for which is dictated or influenced by the Mr. A's who read The Digest—6,347 of them—and each is a customer not only for food products, but equally for furniture, china, glassware, silver and table linens.

And all that potential market is reached by a single copy of The Digest.

Moreover, if there is a grocery department in Mr. A's department store, then he becomes a six-fold customer, a double customer for the same foods.

An extreme instance, naturally, but not an impossible one, and true to some extent—that is to multiple buying-power—for 77% of The Digest's total circulation are claimed as executives and include those who buy for their factories, stores, and offices—well over their homes.

FIRE FIRST GUNS IN BIG 10 TRACK CLASSIC TODAY

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Opening guns in the twenty-third annual Big Ten field games of the Western Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association will be fired this afternoon when trials in the 440 and 880 yard runs, together with field events, will be held on Ferry field of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Although interest will center around the games, which are expected to result in an interesting duel between Illinois and Michigan, the fact will not be overlooked that the faculty committee of the Big Ten will gather tomorrow morning to determine the advisability of increasing the football schedule from seven to eight games. Coaches are eager for a longer schedule, which would certainly meet with approval of gridiron fans.

Favorites Well Balanced.

Illinois and Michigan enter the games with two of the most evenly balanced teams developed in the west in years. Neither can be said to be weak in any respect. Both teams are fortified with reliable performers. Both are expected to take an early lead in the second column, and the final result will hinge largely upon the ability of the second string athletes to gather the points awarded for second, third, and fourth places.

In previous years Coaches Farrell of Michigan and Gill of Illinois have placed just as much stress upon the merits of a fourth place as the five points awarded to a winner. They will undoubtedly follow this tradition today and tomorrow.

Illinois will be represented by some strong performers, but Coach George Frensham has enough of them to warrant a victory over Illinois and Michigan. Frank Hill, coach at Northwestern, has some point winners in Brown, Telford, and Crippen, and the truest of T. E. Jones, coach of the Wisconsin team.

Records Should Tepper.

Chicago should score with Dickson in the high jump, Frieda in the javelin and discs, Brickman in the hurdles, West in the quarter, Krogh in the mile, and Kourakis in the two mile. West is expected to score for Purdue in the dashes and Pence in the high jump.

World, national, and conference records in some events may go by the boards if weather conditions are favorable. Marks made in the eastern Intercollegiate at Philadelphia last Friday and Saturday should be beaten in the same as the caliber of athletes of the Big Ten is far above that which has shown in conference meets of recent years.

Freddie Tykle of Purdue has stepped the century in 29.55, world's record time, which is one-tenth of a second faster than the Big Ten record made by the Hawkeyes. No record year.

Charles Bouchard of Iowa has stepped the 220 yard low hurdles in 23, which is better than the world's record of 23.5 made by A. C. Kraenzlein of the University of Pennsylvania back in 1918.

Hubbard May Set Jump Record.

De Hart Hubbard, the ducky skinned state of Michigan, may hit the take-off right and sail directly into the air for a new world's record in the running broad jump. The present world's mark is 25 feet 3 inches and was made by E. O. Gourdin of Harvard in 1921. The present Big Ten record is 24 feet 1 inch, made by Carl Johnson of Michigan in 1919.

Milton Angier of Illinois should be the best in the high jump. The present world's mark is 25 feet 3 inches and was made by E. O. Gourdin of Harvard in 1921. The present Big Ten record is 24 feet 1 inch, made by Carl Johnson of Michigan in 1919.

Bill Van Orden of Michigan should have the shotput. The Wolverine should have the heaved the ball hard over the bar, which is better than any other. Big Ten record has gone this year.

Lies of Notre Dame and Biddleham of Illinois are expected to be among the qualifiers.

The ten picked on the year's best in baseball are:

Pete Max Duran, Lansing, Ill.; catcher. Billie Boulton, Evanston; first base. Louis Young, Hammond, Ind.; second base. Malone McDonald, St. Joseph, Mo.; third base. Walter C. Clegg, Chicago; shortstop. Eddie Corbett, Chicago; Louise Novak, Evanston; Ulysses Warren, Chicago; Helen Schleman, Valparaiso, Ind. Mathilde Shelly and Hester Abbott, president of W. A. A., were given final emblems for their abilities in athletics and leadership.

CHICAGO GIRLS LAND WITH PURPLE TEAMS

A majority of the women athletes at Northwestern university announced as members of the varsity track and baseball teams and as champions in other branches of sports are from Chicago and suburbs.

The teams and champions were determined in the annual Women's Athletic association meet Saturday. One record was set when Fern Rudiger of Manlius, Ill., hurled the discus 75 feet 4 inches.

The following co-eds are picked on the varsity track team:

Jan Maxham, Evanston; Mathilde Shelly, Chicago; Billie Clegg, Troyan, Ohio; Virginia Warren, Chicago; Editha Befferon, Oak Park; Fern Rudiger, Manlius, Ill.; Mildred Norman, Peoria; Elizabeth Franklin, Evanston.

The junior class won the track championship of the school.

Two Chicago and one Evanston girl were among the five who gathered 1,000 points in the W. A. A. and were awarded a "N." The five are Nelle St. John, Chicago; Editha Franklin, Oak Park; Fern Rudiger, Manlius, Ill.; Mildred Norman, Peoria; Elizabeth Franklin, Evanston.

CITIES NEAR HERE READY TO BECKON RING FOLLOWERS

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives are:
At Waterloo, Ia.—Sammy Mandell knocked out Johnny Mahoney 12-11; Joe Mandell and Eddie Joliet, drew 10-10.
At Bremen—Johnny Brown beat Kid Bulk 10-9.
At Ft. Thomas, Ky.—Joe Andrews beat Young Jack Miller 10-9; Marvel Mart and Billy Sullivan, drew 10-10; Eddie Russell knocked out Dutch Street 12-11.

With boxing practically dead in Chicago as a result of the affair at Dexter Park pavilion, where Benjie Leonard and Pinkie Mitchell met last Tuesday night, local boxers are looking to other towns for bouts. Those who have been interested in local shows have practically given up hope—for the time being at least—of staging any more boxing in Chicago. Floyd Fitzsimmons, the Benton Harbor and Michigan City promoter, is in Chicago, and announced he has practically closed with several promoters in Indiana and Michigan City on July 4. Sailor Freedman and Charley White are looked upon as the champion's most logical opponents. Fitzsimmons will support the main event by bouts between boxers in Indiana and Michigan, as he believes boxing fans in the section have tired of seeing local boxers so often.

East Chicago May Open

George Oswego, who has been conducting shows in the Auditorium in East Chicago, may open at the ball park in the Indiana town. In the past some interesting contests have been staged in this way, and if Oswego arranges suitable cards, his shows should be a magnet for fans during the summer.

Jim Mullen is undecided whether to open his arena at Aurora. The man who has done so much for boxing in Chicago is downhearted over the termination of last Tuesday night's show and believes all his good work has gone for naught.

The second guitarists were busy along the fighting site yesterday, talking over the ending of the Leonard-Mitchell bout. Some claim Referee Miller never should have stopped the bout, but should have counted over Mitchell. Others say Pinkie went down without being hit, while others assert Bennie was within his rights in hitting Mitchell the moment his knees and hands were from the canvas a fraction of an inch.

Receipts Prove Disappointment.

Receipts of the show were a disappointment. The gate was admitted to a little over $54,000, of which the windup fighters took $6 per cent.

Mullen who was arrested just before the Leonard-Mitchell bout for violation of the state statutes prohibiting boxing contests, was unable to appear in the stockyards court yesterday, and his attorney was granted a continuance until June 7.

KILBANE PICKED TO DEFEAT CRIQU
IN FEATHER GO

New York, May 31.—(Special)—Johnny Kilbane is going to get his first start here since the Walker law went into effect, against Eugene Criqui, the great little French featherweight, at the Polo ground Saturday afternoon. The fuss is scheduled for fifteen rounds and carries with it the featherweight championship of the world.

Most of the fans are wondering just what is going to happen. They don't remember Kilbane except for the things that he did in the ring during his many fits and starts. Johnny has been one of those prima donnas and never would put his stut in the line unless they gave him plenty.

Kilbane will have to show at his best to stop the Frenchman if all we have heard is true. Those who have seen Criqui go say he is a curly wolf in action, but the is not a little hokum, and must not be considered too seriously. So that is that.

If you should step up to us quick like and fire a question about who is going to win, we should first of all try to sidestep on your lead. But, if we could back off for a moment we would be inclined to yell out loud that Kilbane was too smart for the Frenchman and was a sure thing to come up with the victory.

On the other hand, the boys have a notion that the Frenchman is being overcooked and is deserving of more than a shout in the reckoning. Be that as it may, the best bet is Kilbane to grab the works inside the limit.

Sammy Mandell Knocks Out Johnny Mahoney

Waterloo, Ia., May 31.—Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., knocked out Johnny Mahoney of Scranton, Pa., in the fifth round of a scheduled ten round bout tonight. Joe Mandell and Frankie Bush, Joliet, Ill., fought eight rounds to a draw in the semi-windup.

STRIKE CALL ON BOWL AT SHELBY FIZZLES

Shelby, Mont., May 31.—(Special)—A dance hall known as the New Paris pavilion will be used by Tommy Gibbons to train for his bout with Dempsey July 4. The challenger, accompanied by Mrs. Gibbons, who will supervise preparation of the Gibbons meals, is expected to arrive here next week.

Shelby citizens have presented the challenger with a large furnished house where he and his family will live.

Labor Strike Falls.

The wooden bowl, where the battle will be staged in 35 per cent complete. It will be finished about June 20.

Allegedly, W. J. Miller, who again attempted to start labor troubles, but the strike failed. More than 100 carpenters at work on the wooden arena refused to leave their jobs.

Mayor James A. Johnson said to-night all of Shelby's labor troubles had been settled and no more industrial disputes were expected.

Jack Captures Eagle.

Great Falls, Mont., May 31.—(Special)—Jack Dempsey returned tonight from a fishing trip. He had no fish to tell, but exhibited a baby eagle which he captured near Rock Creek. Dempsey plans a short fishing jaunt tomorrow to the cattle ranch of W. L. Velle, Moline, Ill., manufacturer. He will return to his camp at night.

PINKIE'S GIFT
TITLE SAFE, SAYS
BADGER BOARD

Milwaukee, Wis., May 31.—Pinkie Mitchell, Milwaukee boxer, still retains the junior welterweight championship belt, regardless of the outcome of the contest with Bertie Lillard in Chicago. Tuesday night, according to Judge A. J. Hedding, father of Wisconsin's boxing law and chairman of the commission in charge of the junior welterweight emblem.

The commission has ruled. Judge Hedding stated, that inasmuch as the legality of holding the contest in Illinois was in question, and further that Lillard, having refused to weigh in on the afternoon preceding the contest, compels the commission to make its ruling definite.

JEFFRIES THINKS
"GIB" MIGHT WIN

Los Angeles, Cal., May 31.—James J. Jeffries, former heavyweight champion boxer, announced that he planned to go to Shelby, Mont., to see the match between Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, and Tom Gibbons of St. Paul. Jeffries said he believed Gibbons had a chance to win.

SHOOTERS TIE OVER HALF OF STATE MEET

BY HUGH FULLERTON (Pictures on back page.)

Although C. C. Mitchell, with 99 out of 100 targets, made a better score than the first 100 birds shot in the Illinois State singles championship over the traps at Lincoln park yesterday, Mark Arie is the favorite to win. Arie, who broke 98 targets, is tied in score with three others, but as two are from outside the state, he and D. E. Graham lead. Mitchell is from Wisconsin and a professional.

Shooting yesterday was brilliant and scores high in the morning, when the first 100 birds were shot, but in the afternoon a stiff wind, blowing straight into the traps, affected the scores of the afternoon and handicap event for the diamond badge.

Today the last half of the singles championship will be shot and this afternoon the doubles championship with fifty registered pairs competing, will be the feature. Summaries:

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

ANNUALS FOR CITY RENTER.

In the annual family is to be found the most desirable climbing flowers to be used in covering up fences around the vegetable garden or back lawn. Four or five will furnish plenty of variety in foliage and color. Cardinal climbers, cypress vine, Japanese morning glory, purple clematis, cinch bean and the common annual morning glories are all good for this purpose. Early sowing of these annuals is never advisable, for they all need warm weather to germinate successfully. But warm days are in sight.

The cardinal climber is a hybrid between the cypress vine and a close relative of the morning glory, annual experts say. It is slow to germinate and for that reason it is often planted just as soon as the weather becomes warm.

With this late season to deal with it would be best to soak the seed for a day before planting. This climber produces red flowers resembling morning glory in shape.

While the cypress vine does not furnish a thick screen, it is considered one of the most beautiful of these annuals. Scarlet runners and morning glories make better screens. The principles will receive flat guarantees, and it is said Zbyszko will have a privilege of two-thirds of the receipts and Gardini one-third.

WESTERN UMP RESIGNS.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 31.—Roy Patterson, Western umpire, resigned today. He will be succeeded by Ted McNew, late of the Pacific Coast league.

STANISLAUS PUTS UP $1,000 MAT FORFEIT

Jack Herman, manager of Stanislaus Zbyszko, former heavyweight champion, matched to meet Renato Gardini in a finish match at the Coliseum on June 12, yesterday posted a forfeit of $1,000 with the sporting editor of the Tribune to guarantee appearance and carry out his end of the contract.

Since Wladys Zbyszko, a younger brother of Stanislaus, defeated George Czaja in Boston recently, a bitter feud developed between Polish and Italian grapplers and each is bent on eliminating the other from the sport by fair means. Renato Gardini, claimant of the Italian heavyweight championship, asserts he can beat all the Polish in the game and accordingly was signed to meet Stanislaus in his first match.

A check by the official timers of yesterday's race showed that Tommy Milton, the winner, completed the 500 miles in 5:29:50.17, an average of 90.95 miles an hour. Immediately after the race the given showed an average of 91.44 miles.

FUTURE RACES ON SPEED COURSE IN INDIANA IN DOUBT

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Officials of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway will be called to meet here within the next few days to discuss the future use of the racecourse. Carl G. Fisher, founder and park owner, announced yesterday.

Reports that continued opposition by patriotic organizations in Indiana to holding the annual 500 mile race on Memorial day was responsible for talk of abandoning the course were denied by Mr. Fisher.

Makes Yank Cars Superior.

"We have accomplished what we set out to do when we built the speedway here," Mr. Fisher said, in explanation of the doubtful future of the course.

At the time it was built American cars were far inferior to European race cars, but American cars are far superior to European cars, as was conclusively shown in the great race yesterday.

Mr. Fisher added that the speedway is getting old, and before another race it would probably be necessary to spend $200,000 for improvements.

Alley's Condition Critical.

Tom Alley, driver of a car that crashed through a fence during yesterday's race, was missing today, the police were notified by his parents at Lafayette. The boys who were with him said they had not seen him since the accident.

Fashion for Summer Approves of These Hats of White, $5.75 to $12.50.

There's scarcely a color that their lightsome charm does not complement, and they are among the most favored for summer.

Many are in soft shapes and often there are effective chenille embroideries or applied flowers made of silk crepe.

Perhaps the entire hat may be made of ribbon—that's one of the very newest fancies. The clever use of narrow white ribbon is a striking feature of many of the hats in this collection.

These Hats are in the New Straw Braids
Or In Combinations of Straw and Silk

Large drooping hats, and tiny close-fitting cloche hats, off-the-face hats of newer lines—a very delightful collection. With the vacation season close at hand, hats of this sort have a most important place in the wardrobe. The price range unusually satisfactory. $5.75 to $12.50.

those birthday it is are to watch out for false friends and enemies. Children born on this day are likely to be fortunate in undertakings, but may meet with many enemies.

You of this birthday are quiet, though venturesome, with that happy faculty of finding some satisfaction in any and every condition of life confronting you. You are musical, inventive, original, poetic, to a marked degree; faithful, hopeful, and intuitive.

You have a fine quality of self-sacrifice.

You would go to any length of personal sacrifice to make your friends and family happier.

You suffer much at times through disappointment, not reckoning at all on the selflessness with which sacrifice is often met.

You are living in instinct, and can adapt yourself to all circumstances.

Your literary ability is marked, and in the degree of its cultivation may you acquire fame and success thereby. Your periods of deep depression are about the worst fault you have to dominate.

Thinking for Pleasures Afforded.

"Dear Miss Blake: When a gentle man escorts a girl home does she thank him or does he thank the girl for her company?" BETTY F.

It is nice to say something like: "I have had such a pleasant evening," or, "It has been awfully good fun being out with you." Something like that is not necessary to thank the boy. He would naturally remember with a thank you for the pleasure of your company.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Cooking Mushrooms.

The water in a mushroom contains a large part of the flavor. Lose this by sending it off as steam, as you sauté the mushrooms in butter, or bake them, or broil them, and you have nothing but a rubbery stick.

Not only is it necessary to keep the water in the mushrooms, but to keep it well distributed.

The second part of the preparation is that a most competent mushroom gatherer calls "broiled mushrooms" does just that; evenly distributes the water in the mushroom. She cleans the large mushrooms, puts them on an earthenware plate, seasons them with salt and butter, puts the dish into a hot broiling oven until the juices come out well, then takes it from the oven and covers it closely for five minutes before the serving.

In cooking mushrooms we may do about the same thing. If we have large mushrooms and have cut them in even slices and have dropped them into melted butter, in an even layer, the best thing to do is to watch them until they look as though they were about to melt, then cover closely and keep them over a tiny bit of fire for five minutes, until ready to serve as a garnish for steak, or to add cream to them or a fine meat gravy. A regular meat gravy may be excellent, and yet be raised in color 100 per cent by adding cooked mushrooms to it.

In general, in preparing mushrooms for gravy, they are cut fine. It is then all the more necessary to watch out and not lose the water in them when they are first cooked in butter. When the liquid forms in the pan, it is best to add the whole to the gravy right away.

Cell to Loon.

I have a cell which I would be glad to lend to some person who could make good use of it and cannot afford to buy one at the present time.

Baby Clothes Desired.

I am hoping that some of your kind readers can help me. I am a widow, a widow of a year, and have a very lonely son. One evening while smoking a cigar, he asked permission to smoke a cigarette, and I asked for the band, and said to my cousin: "O, Elsie, don't you wish Lee would give you a ring?" Needless to say, my cousin was furious and sent me from the room, and I don't know yet if that or my "boner" embarrassed me the most.

When so many of us have little ones outgrowing their things, there's no reason, is there, why Mrs. F. B. should not be able to find a use for them another day—when it comes to this department and a few of the things you no longer need will turn her anxiety to happiness?

Unfortunate Excuse.

Going downtown in a street car, a man whom I dislike sat next to me. He talked so loud that everyone in the car could hear him. I said, in an effort to rid myself of him, "I'm sorry, I'll have to leave you in a few blocks, as I have an appointment with Dr. Smith, my dentist, at 4 o'clock." He looked at me queerly, and then remarked in a loud tone, "Why, I'm going there at that time myself!" H. L.

One Lazy Boss.

One morning at work I found my inkwell empty and the desk was covered with dust. The office boy hadn't arrived yet and when the door opened I supposed that it was him so I burst out with, "you certainly are the laziest person I ever knew. You never do a thing in this office." Silence greeting me, I turned to find my boss standing near the door.

WORK NOT WORDS NEEDED TO SAVE EUROPE—ALLEN

LONDON, May 31.—[United News.]—Europe cannot be saved by diplomacy. She must go back to work."

Thus Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, analyzed the European situation in an interview here today. He has just arrived in London after an extended tour of the continent.

Asked what he intended to tell the powers that be in Europe regarding European conditions and the attitude the United States should adopt toward the present situation, Mr. Allen said:

"It is impossible to place all Europe in one category. Some parts are very bad, and there are also several bright spots. But I take away a gloomy picture of the stirring of new ambitions and the forming of new ententes."

Play for Position.

"It is suggestive of the old system of alliances. It is evident in the near east and the Balkans. It is noticeable in the French colonies of Poland and Germany. It is also in the Balkans, advancing toward Italy. There is the suspicion that trouble may impend a chain reaction the same reactions that brought on the late war. The powers are playing for position."

Mr. Allen said, however, that he was not pessimistic, citing numerous bright spots in the situation. He asserted because southern Russia had improved to work in the land, and the Greeks and British were giving Palestine a government probably better than that it enjoyed under Solomon or David. He had found Egypt the most prosperous spot abroad.

Greece, he asserted, was reviving admirably from the near east debacle, and he believed that France was forcing Germany to make a reasonable reparations offer and carry it out.

Favor Hague Court.

"America cannot do much now to help Europe," he said. "We should join the Hague court, but the time has not yet arrived to join the League of Nations. I agree with President Harding that we should not join the League. We should seek to be helpful when European questions arise which affect us, or which threaten world civilization, but we must not get mixed up in European politics."

AURORA-ELGIN LINES ORDERED SOLD BY COURT

Aurora, Ill., May 31.—Judge Evan Evans of the United States Circuit court, sitting in Chicago, has entered an order for the sale of the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Electric railroad properties, consisting of the Aurora and Elgin city lines and interurban lines operating in the Fox river valley. The order was issued on application of holders of $1,545,000 bonds of the Aurora, Elgin and Southern Traction company, from which the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago company developed. Holders of the bonds are the Chicago and Elgin. The sale, it is expected, will result in a refinancing of the lines, which have just been voted new twenty-year franchises in Aurora and Elgin.

MAY CORN 5 3-8¢ HIGHER AT CLOSE; WHEAT ADVANCES

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

An effort to buy a small amount of May corn in the last two minutes of trading advanced that delivery from 75¢ to 83¢, with very little grain changing hands on the way up. The close was at the top, with nothing offered, and after the close local houses paid 83¢ for 35,000 bu cash corn in order to fill their contracts. The net gain for the day was 8¢.

There were no upward developments in May wheat and oats, and while price fluctuations were erratic, trading was largely of an evening up character, with May wheat the lower and oats the higher for the day.

Deferred deliveries of grain were little affected by the action of the May. There was an absence of the pessimistic feeling which has been so much in evidence of late, and with a broadening in the speculative interest prices moved up with wheat 18¢ higher at the last, while corn advanced 7¢, oats 4¢, and rye 4¢.

Commission houses were on the buying side of wheat, especially the September and the local element, who have been very bearish of late, were more disposed to cover shorts than to increase their lines. The advance was easily attained. Government weekly crop report on winter wheat was mixed with some damage shown in the Ohio valley, but the spring wheat crop is making favorable progress.

Shorts Covering in Corn.

A local short was a good buyer of July corn, and with no pressure on the May and sentiment more disposed to the May, the market was easily maintained. Outside interest was not large, but there was a noticeable lack of pressure of long grain and there were claims from parts of Iowa that the after planting movement was practically over. Receipts continue relatively light. Heavy rains while beneficial in parts of Iowa, also tend to delay field work, and the government weekly report showed much replanting necessary in various parts of the belt. Shipping demand was fair with cash prices about unchanged.

Shorts Covering of May.

Trading was rapid at times on rather small orders either way. The deferred deliveries were in fair demand from commission houses and the local element, and with other grains higher, advanced readily, closing above the top. Crop reports from the central west were generally favorable.

Norway Bays Bye.

There was a range of 9¢/10¢, and the finish was firm, largely in sympathy with other grains. Norway took a cargo for August shipment at the seaboard, but the general demand from abroad was only fair. The two northwestern markets received 102 cars of grain.

Shorts were but firm and closed with large 5¢/6¢ higher, with ribs unchanged to 5¢ higher. Small lots of lard were bought for investment, which assisted in making the advance. Liverpool lard was 2¢ higher. Prices follow:

Children, Playing in Doorway, Victims of Auto Smash—10 Janitor Union Officials' Prison Sentences Upheld

MONKEY FLEES HOSPITAL. Arrow points to monkey which escaped from American hospital and took refuge last night in the tower of Our Lady of the Lake church, Buena avenue and Sheridan road. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

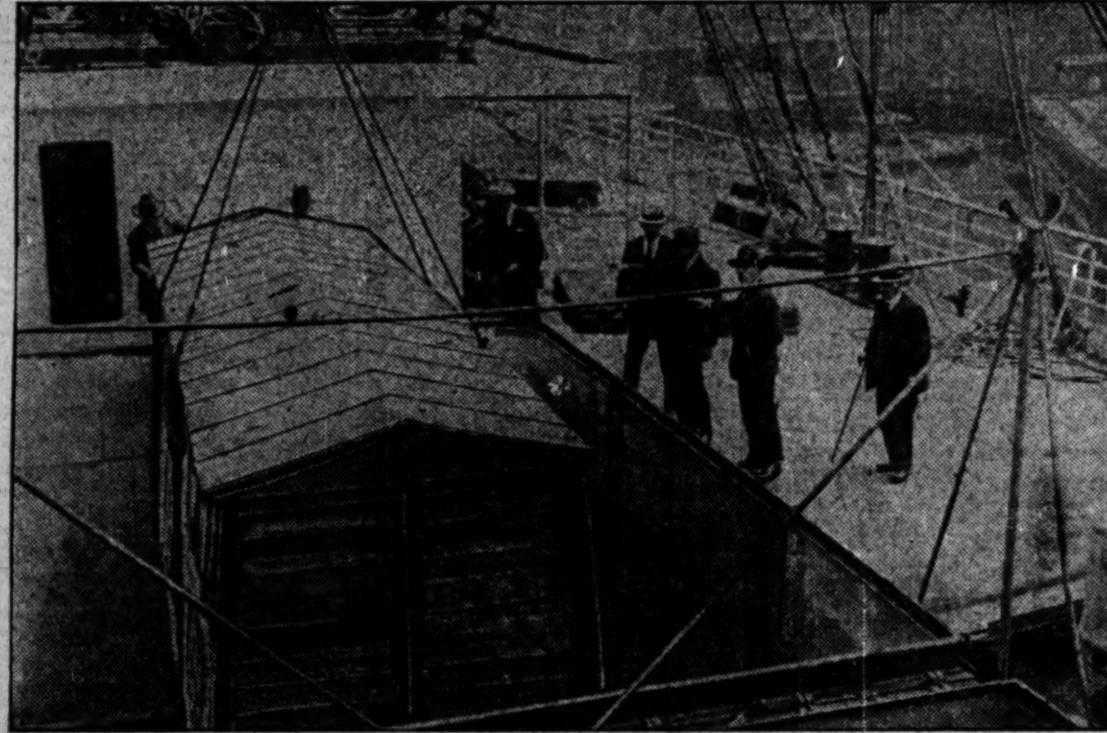

PRINCIPALS IN "WATER CURE" INQUIRY. Anton Kolar (at the right), who asked that wife's body be exhumed for autopsy, and Dr. G. E. Boffenmeyer, head of Lombard, Ill., sanitarium, where she died. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

SEVERELY HURT. John Kucha, injured in auto crash at Wood and Superior streets.

[TRIBUNE Photo.] VICTIMS OF AUTOMOBILE SMASH. Stella Czeveronka, 5 years old, living at 1816 Erie street, and Stella Szymanski were severely injured last night when a speeding auto crashed into another car and then into the front of building where they were playing.

UNLOADING "FLIVVER" PLANE. George Barbot, French flyer, who startled the aviation world by his English channel flight, has come to U.S. He brought his "baby" monoplane along. In it he plans flight from New York to Chicago. [Pacific and Atlantic Photo.]

LUCKY. Anna Novak was standing in doorway, but miraculously escaped wild auto.

WHERE CHILDREN WERE CRUSHED BY CAR. It was at 1800 West Superior street that boys and girls were playing when auto plunged into the doorway after striking another machine. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

[TRIBUNE Photo.] JEWS CLOSE GREAT CHARITY DRIVE. Jacob M. Loeb (at the left), general chairman of united drive, turns over check for $2,751,000 to A. K. Foreman, drive treasurer.

"ARSON BURGLAR." George Mowatt set eight fires, then robbed homes on south side.

FAVORITE FOR SHOOTING HONORS. Claude Kitchin, Democratic leader in congress, succumbs to pneumonia.

[TRIBUNE Photo.] TWO LUNDIN JURORS TO BE REMOVED. Just when it was thought jury was completed it was announced two jurors will be dismissed. Lunden (left) and Attorney Darro discuss situation.

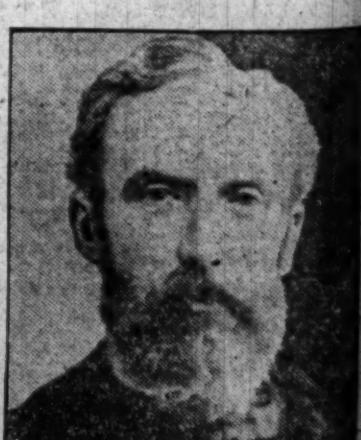

[Kadel & Herbert Photo.] THE MODERN VENUS OF ROUMANIA. Mile Radulescu was recently chosen in a nation-wide beauty contest conducted in Roumania as the most beautiful and perfectly formed woman in that country.
